NEW CHINESE THRUST SHIFTS WAR TO HEART OF SHANGHAI

SHRAPNEL SPRAY ABOUT THE U. S. SHIP, AUGUSTA

Lives of Americans and Other Foreigners In New Jeopardy

TRANSPORTS OF JAPANESE FLEE

Nipponese Threat To Disregard Presence of Foreign Vessels

BY JAME A MILLS

SHANGHAI, Sept. 4.—(Saturday)—The Imperial Japanese third fleet, stung by the might of Chinese counter attack, today proclaimed stern punitive action to "terminate Chinese activities in Shanghai."

The ominous and cryptic warning said merely that the Chinese activities would be summarily "terminated" and that Japanese objectives would be "furthered."

It came after a diabolical, day-long display of war weapons that exposed the heart of the city to some of its gravest dangers since fateful Friday the thirteenth of August.

That was the day the undeclared war, hit Shanghai. The battle surged on early this morning, somewhat lessened in intensity. Flames, too, licked viciously through scattered districts, their ghostly glare silhouetting Japanese and foreign men-of-war in the Whangpoo.

Air Raid Sirens Scream

CANTON, China, Sept. 3.—(AP)—(Saturday)—Air raid sirens screamed and lights blinked out in anticipation of a Japanese bombing foray in this jittery South China city last night, but no planes had appeared up to early this morning.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—A new maelstrom of shellfire and shrapnel engulfed international Shanghai early today, leading French authorities to give blunt notice that they expected both sides to curb hostilities during evacuation of 650 French and American refugees.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—China's armies surprised Japanese tonight with a smashing counter-offensive which shifted Shanghai warfare back to the city proper and placed in new jeopardy the lives of Americans and other foreigners.

The Chinese attack stalled Japan's long promised "big push" and forced a revision of Japanese strategy.

Chinese big guns and machinegun nests sprayed shells and bullets on Japanese warships and troop transports. Eight Japanese transports fled downstream.

Shells crashed into the international settlement and the French concession. Shrapnel burst over the foreign communities.

One projectile struck the roof of the second United State marine battalion barracks, but failed to explode. Marine officers said it was a one-pound anti-aircraft projectile.

A heavy artillery shell burst at the junction of Peking road and Shanghai's Bund in the international settlement. Shrapnel burst about the U. S. cruiser Augusta.

Greater Danger Looms

Even greater danger loomed for the Augusta and other foreign warships. A Japense naval spokesman announced Japanese ships would fire across the foregn naval contingent lying in the Whangpoo in punitive bombardment of Chinese artillery positions.

Chinese gunners showed surprising improvement in markmanship. They scored three direct hits on the Japanese consulate, seriously wounding three Japanese consular police and one Japanese newspaperman.

Many Japanese bluejackets on shore and on ship board were killed or wounded.

Disregard Foreign Craft

American and foreign vessels were anchored between Japanese warships and Pootung, preventing Japanese from returning fire and inspiring the Japanese announcemet that "hereafter we will use our full power regardless of the presence of foreign warcraft."

Some Chinese shells overshot their marks, falling in parts of the international settlement and the French concession. One struck near the Italian consulate, another near the Associated Press office.

Two big shells plumped into Bubbling Well road, one of them at the entrance of the world famous Shanghai Race Club in the heart of the city. It wounded a British volun-

SPORTSMEN WILL MEET THIS EVENING

All sportsmen of Pettis county are invited to attend a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 o'clock tonight for the purpose of perfecting an organization of citizens who will cooperate with the new state conservation commission.

J. T. Montgomery, chairman of the county for the state conservation commission will preside and Willard F. Dean, special representative of the state federation will address the meeting.

SPECIAL SABBATH PROGRAM FOR THE ADVENTISTS

Rev. A. W. McCormack of General Conference To Give Address

The Rev. C. M. Babcock, of St. Joseph, spoke to the delegates at the Seventh-day Adventist convention Thursday night at the 8:00 o'clock service, saying in part:

"During the past week many blessings have been poured out by our Heavenly Father, and in appreciation for what He has done for us we should consecrate our lives for service in behalf of others who are not Christians," declared Pastor Babcock.

The speaker referred to the origin of Seventh-day Adventists as a denomination in the years of 1861-1863. Every ten years since the origin of the denomination, the Seventh-day Adventists have doubled their membership. Today their message is being preached in 614 languages and dialects in more than 380 countries and islands of the world.

Pastor Robert M. Whitsett of Columbia, spoke at the morning devotional service, and urged the adherents of the faith to join with the ministry in evangelizing the world. This can best be done by working for friends and neighbors in home communities, and constantly keeping in mind the responsibility resting on the followers of Christ to "Preach the Word."

President E. L. Branson was the speaker at the 8:30 a. m. meeting, and told of his experiences in selling Seventh-day Adventists books in South Africa. Interesting indeed was his account of the experiences he had in the diamond fields there. Rev. Branson lived in South Africa as a young man when his father, Rev. W. H. Branson was in charge of denominational activities on the continent. Today the senior Branson is the first vice-president of the denomination, and is on a tour of the world supervising the work for the world conference.

JUNIOR MUST BE SIXTEEN TO DRIVE

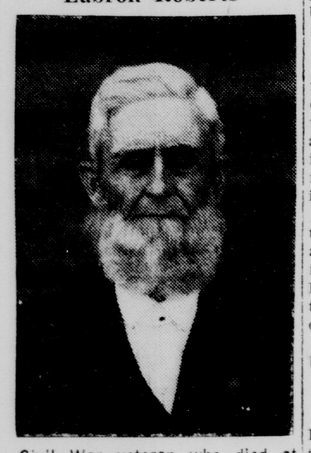

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—Junior will have to wait until he's 16 years old to take his best girl out automobile riding.

Under the state-wide drivers license law, which goes into effect next Monday, the state motor vehicle department explained it was without authority to issue special permits to drivers under the age limit.

Secretary of State Dwight H. Brown said the department has been literally deluged" with requests from both boys and girls, seeking special privileges to drive motor cars.

"It may seem rather hard on the younger generation," said Brown, "but it is the law and is, after all, for the general public safety and good."

FINAL DECISION ON BONDS BE UP TO GOVERNOR

Kansas City Company In Offer To Give Up Contract or Purchase

CONFERENCE BY THE FUND BOARD

Resale Is at Present Being Held Up Due To Litigation

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—Three members of the state fund board agreed today to accept the offer of Baum, Bernheimer & Co., Kansas City, to surrender its contract for purchasing the $3,000,000 in state building bonds, but the final decision was put squarely up to Governor Lloyd C. Stark, now vacationing in the East.

The Kansas City firm, which had purchased the bonds at a private sale July 20, offered last night to cancel its contract, providing a St. Louis syndicate would still purchase the securities at $150,500 premium.

A second condition was that if the syndicate did not offer to buy the bonds at that figure, the board was to carry out its contract with Baum, Bernheimer's for the $100,000 premium.

Attorney General Roy McKittrick and State Treasurer R. W. Winn, two of the four members of the fund board, said they were willing to accept the Kansas City firm's offer.

McKittrick communicated with Stark, but the governor did not reach any immediate decision' the attorney general said. He said he expected to talk with him again this afternoon.

The attorney general said before he would negotiate with either of the bond firms in the matter, he must have definite assurance whether Stark would sign the bonds.

Resale In Litigation.

State Auditor Forrest Smith, the fourth member of the board, advised McKittrick he would favor acceptance of the offer, but probably could not return from a Colorado vacation by the deadline set tomorrow afternoon by the Baum, Bernheimer Company.

Resale of the bonds is now held up in litigation, but under the offer the fund board would dismiss its writ in the state supreme court to restrain Circuit Judge Nike G. Sevier from enjoining the board from reselling the bonds, and Baum, Bernheimer would dismiss its injunction suit.

The fund board on Aug. 18 called for new bids on the bonds, after critics charged the private sale resulted in a loss of $50,000 or more to the state.

I. A. Long, St. Louis banker representing a syndicate of six banks and investment houses, offered the $150,500 premium for the bonds on Aug. 21, but withdrew the offer a week ago after Baum, Bernheimer filed the injunction suit.

In the absence of Stark and Smith, Acting Governor Albert M. Clark will probably be called in the fund board's meeting tomorrow, if one is held, in order to obtain a quorum in determining whether to accept the offer.

Winn said he understood the bond market is on the sale level it was when the private sale was made, July 20.

McKittrick declared if Stark would not agree to sign the bonds providing the St. Louis syndicate did not renew its offer, he would refuse to reopen the controversy at this time.

The matter then would continue in litigation, with the question tied up until after Sept. 24, when the supreme court will hear arguments on whether Judge Sevier can enjoin the board from reselling the bonds.

No Action To Renew Bid

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A representative of the St. Louis syndicate of banks and investment firms, which had offered to pay the state a premium of $150,500 for $3,000,000 in building bonds, said no action to renew the bids was taken at a meeting today.

I. A. Long, the spokesman, said the syndicate's definite decision awaited official action by the state fund board on the offer af Baum, Bernheimer and Co., of Kansas City to surrender its privately-obtained contract for purchase of the bonds.

ORAL AGREEMENT TO SETTLE STRIKE

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—Luke E. Hart, president of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company, announced today striking employes of the company's Poplar Bluff plant would return to work Tuesday under an "oral agreement" reached with union representatives.

"We would not, and did not sign a contract," Hart asserted.

The company president said the oral agreement called for recognition of local 149 of the United Shoe Workers of America as the sole bargaining agency for the employes, but did not accord recognition to the union itself or to the CIO, of which it is an affiliate.

No immediate changes will be made in wages and hours at the plant, Hart said. The agreement, however, provided for semi-annual conferences on Nov. 15 and May 15 to discuss wages and working conditions.

Settlement of the strike, which began August 2, was reached late yesterday after three days of conferences between Hart and union leaders. About 350 employes were affected.

PETITIONS FILED FOR REFERENDUM ON 'GAS' TAX HIKE

Contain 161,300 Signatures, Near Three Times Required Number

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—Petitions seeking a referendum on the law increasing the state gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents after December 7, 1938, were filed this afternoon in the secretary of state's office by Matt F. Morse, secretary of the Missouri Automobile Club and chairman of the gas tax referendum committee.

The petitions, which weighed an estimated 1,200 pounds contained 161,300 signatures, or almost three times the 56,000 required to secure a referendum vote in November, 1938, Morst said.

Governor Lloyd C. Stark has led the forces opposing the referendum, declaring defeat of the gas tax hike will injure the farm-to-market road program.

Under the constitutional amendment approved in 1928, the gasoline tax could not be increased for ten years, and legislation urged by the governor to increase the levy after the expiration of the limitation period was passed by the 59th general assembly.

Since the law authorizing the increase goes into effect Monday, the referendum petitions have to be filed by that date.

INSISTS U. S. CITIZENS LEAVE SHANGHAI

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Secretary Hull said today the state department had issued warnings that could not well be stronger in its latest efforts to persuade Americans to leave Shanghai and other Sino-Japanese battle zones.

He made that assertion to reporters shortly after persons close to the state department had voiced the opinion there was no necessity for invoking the neutrality act in the conflict.

Naval vessels, the secretary said, should provide the means for American citizens to get out of China.

FATALLY BEATS WIFE AND KILLS DENTIST

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 3.—Sheriff E. T. Harvey said today Gordon Newman, 45, charged with killing his wife and her dentist, confessed that he also killed a Negro yesterday.

Newman, officers said, beat his 38-year-old wife to death at their Cillsburg, Miss., farm home and then drove 16 miles to Kentwood, La., where he shot Dr. A. D. Root, 45, in his office.

"They had an affair," Newman was quoted as saying.

The sheriff said the prisoner did not tell him why the Negro was killed or his name. Amite county officers organized a searching party to hunt for the body.

They advanced the theory that the Negro possibly witnessed the killing of Mrs. Newman.

Deputy Sheriff J. K. Harvey, father of the Amite county sheriff, said Mrs. Newman's relatives were incensed at the prisoner's charges against his wife.

TWO OFFICERS AND BANDIT DIE IN A GUN BATTLE

Shooting Near Medway, Ohio, Follows a Payroll Robbery

CAFE MAN FREED AFTER MONEY TAKEN

Two of Quartet Make Escape In Car Toward Dayton

By The Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 3.—Two officers and a bandit were killed, a third officer was wounded, and one bandit was captured in a gun battle today near Medway, 15 miles southwest of here in Clark county.

The shooting followed the $1,297 payroll robbery of a Springfield cafe proprietor, who was abducted from a city street about noon. Two other gunmen escaped.

Patrolman Martin Randolph, 38, and Chief Deputy Sheriff Edward Furry, 45, were killed. Patrolman Martin Donnelly was slightly wounded in the furious exchange of shots.

The dead bandit was unidentified.

Released After Robbery.

The cafe proprietor, Robert M. Smith, told police three bandits forced him into their automobile on a downtown street shortly before noon and carried him into the country, where they robbed him of money he had just obtained for his cafe payroll.

He said the three holdup men then met a companion.

Smith said that after he was released he notified police and the sheriff's office by telephone.

Randolph, Furry and Patrolman Martin Donnelly took up the chase and encountered the bandit car near the small lake resort where the shooting occurred.

After the exchange of gunfire, the other two bandits escaped in their machine towards Dayton.

LEADER IN BLOODY BREAK OUT AGAIN

MALESTER, Okla., Sept. 3.—Malloy "Red" Kuykendall, a leader in the bloody break from Granite Reformatory in 1935, kidnaped a state penitentiary guard today and fled in an old automobile in which he was being taken to the prison from the brickyard.

In close pursuit were guards from the penitentiary, members of the state highway patrol, local officers, and the prison's bloodhound pack, led by 'Old Boston," famed manhunter.

Deputy Warden Bob West said Kuykendall and his hostage, J. C. Hunter, former Chickasha police chief, were last sighted one mile south of Crowder, near here, and "there's little chance he will get away."

DELINQUENT TAX LISTS BE PUBLISHED

Complying with the Jones-Munger law the county collector, J. B. "Doc" Greer, and the county court have arranged to publish the delinquent tax lists, those pieces of property on which the taxes are delinquent five years or more, in the Democrat, the first publication to appear Friday, October 1.

The property description is given in each tract, together with the total amount of taxes and penalties due.

Those tracts on which the amounts due are paid between now and a few days before publication will be removed from the lists. Those remaining will be offered for sale at public sale the early part of November.

FULLER BREAKS RECORD BURBANK TO CLEVELAND

Makes Air Dash In Races In Little Less Than Eight Hours

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—Frank Fuller, second entrant in the Bendix trans-continental race to arrive, streaked over Cleveland airport at 1:50 p. m. (C. S. T.) today for an elapsed time of 7 hours and 55 minutes from Burbank, Calif., apparently a new record for the event.

The previous record was 8 hours 19 minutes and 45 seconds set by Capt. James H. Haizlip, in 1932.

Fuller, flying a stripped down Seversky pursuit ship powered with a twin-row Wasp motor, roared off eastward for Bendix, N. J.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—Jacqueline Cochran, of Indio, Calif., swooped over Cleveland airport at 12:33 p. m. (CST) today at the finish of her 2,042 mile grind from Burbank, Calif., in the Bendix trans-continental derby inaugurating the annual national air races. Her elapsed time was ten hours 29 minutes.

Pending arrival of six other starters in the race, for purses totalling $28,000 the winner of the derby could not be ascertained.

The record for the distance in the Bendix event is 8 hours 33 minutes, set by Benny Howard in 1935.

By completing the event, Miss Cochran, wife of Floyd B. Odlum, head of the Atlas Corporation, collected $2,500 in prize money. Her average speed was 194.4 miles per hour.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—Seven of the fastest airplanes in American commercial aviation streaked toward Cleveland from Los Angeles today, bent on capturing part of the $25,000 offered by Vincent Bendix,

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES AT AGE OF 94

Labron Roberts, ninety-four years old veteran of the Civil War, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. L. Bohon, Route 4, Sedalia, at four o'clock Thursday afternoon.

He served in the Civil War in Company H of the Sixth Regiment of Missouri Militia. He was honorably discharged October 31, 1863.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. R. L Bohon and Mrs. Mollie Birdsley, both of Sedalia.

Besides his two daughters, Mr. Roberts is survived by the following grandchildren: Herbert Bohon and Dorothy Bohon, and Roy N. Davis, who resides in New Orleans, Louisiana, and the following who are great-grandchildren: Herbert Bohon and Rosemary Bohon, and Jack E. Davis of New Orleans. Jack E. Davis will arrive Saturday afternoon from New Orleans to attend the service.

Mr. Roberts was born in Jackson County, Tennessee, in 1843 and moved to Pettis County in 1855. Since that time he has made his home here.

In 1863 he was united in marriage to Miss Euphia Young. Three of the five children of this marriage preceeded him in death.

He became a member of the Flat Creek Baptist church in 1878.

The body is at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held at the Gillespie Funeral Home, Sunday afternoon, at two o'clock. The funeral sermon will be given by Rev. Frank Cook, pastor of the Lamine Baptist Church.

A trio composed of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Meyers and Miss Mary Ford will sing, "Going Down the Valley," "Rock of Ages," and "Someday We'll Understand."

Pall bearers will be Edward Baugh, Homer Baugh, George Mosby, Everett Mosby, Herbert Young and Edward Davis.

Interment will be in Crown Hill Cemetery by the side of his wife who preceded him in death on March 11, 1929.

OVER A HUNDRED NEW LAWS GO IN EFFECT MONDAY

Drivers' Licenses Applicable To All Operators of Cars In State

HANGINGS ARE TO BE TABOOED

Law For Increase In Gasoline Tax Is To Be Referred To Voters

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—More than a hundred new laws, including provisions for drivers' licenses, lethal gas executions, a state cancer hospital, permanent registration, and some so-called "grab-bag" legislation will go into effect next Monday.

They include all acts passed by the 59th general assembly, except those carrying "emergency" clauses. The effective date, under the state law, is 90 days after final adjournment of the legislature.

The appropriations bills, the 2 per cent sales tax law, the social security act, the unemployment compensation law, and others which carried "emergency" clauses were put on the statute books as soon as they were signed by Governor Lloyd C. Stark.

Urged by Stark as a safety measure, the drivers' license law calls for the issuance by the state motor vehicle commissioner of 2-year permits, at 25 cents, to all motorists over the age of 16, the licenses are to be revoked upon conviction of manslaughter, driving while intoxicated, or any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle is used.

To Die By Gas

Criminals doomed to death after Monday will be sentenced to die in a lethal gas chamber to be erected in the state penitentiary here. The new law will bring to an end eventually the carrying out of capital punishment by hanging in county seats in which the condemned person is convicted.

A four-member cancer commission named earlier this week to establish a $500,000 hospital to provide for treatment of indigent persons afflicted with the disease, and to establish cancer clinics in the larger cities, will be given legal status next week.

Permanent registration will be set up in the state's largest cities, prin-

HONGKONG IS A CITY OF WRECKAGE

By The Associated Press.

HONGKONG, Sept. 3.—Typhoon battered Hongkong today was a city and harbor strewn with wreckage, with bodies washed up along the waterfront and great ships pitched crazily inland.

The typhoon roared northwest, leaving a death toll ranging from 300 upwards. It was expected to strike the China coast midway between Amoy and Foochow, probably swirling on in proximity to bloody Shanghai.

High gales still blew here.

The storm's havoc greatly accentuated the misery of this city, packed with war refugees and fighting a chorela epidemic in which two-thirds of the cases have been fatal.

EVOLUTION FROM BLUE SERGE ERA

Men are advertising-conscious as well as women. This is becoming more and more certain in various lines of merchandising in which the male portion of the home is interested.

They are individuals of taste and discrimination. Hal A. Salzman writing in Nation's Business under the title "Men Return to the Market Place, points out to merchants and advertisers. Too, they are scanning the "ads" for merchandising information on what is "right" as well as for price advantages.

Nothing that American men as a body are the best dressed, Mr. Salzman, himself extensively in the men's wear business, declares they read advertising of that line, know the styles and are not afraid to follow them. They have returned to the market place of their own volition, emerging from the timid era of the blue serge of a generation ago. More style and individuality will be sought, he believes. Discussing this and the need to be alert to appeal to the new buying psychology among men, Mr. Salzman says; the "alert newspaper and the alert advertiser are meeting an active men's market and finding success." He urges the need for merchandisers to be active in meeting this new condition, addressing himself particularly to the men's wear line. "Any shift in merchandising habits," he warns, "calls for close examination by all parties who stand to be affected."

In numerous ways men are noticeably more style-conscious than ever before, and it follows that they also are more advertising-conscious.

"PIGSKIN" ATTENDANCE

From Columbia Missourian.

Although it is still a month until football season starts, all signs point to it being the most prosperous season in many years for the "old pigskin." Over the country fans are waiting for the opening kick-off and all indications point to capacity crowds this fall.

There are several reasons for this belief, some directly connected with the game itself and others indirectly related to it. One good indicator was the huge response a few weeks ago in the voting contest to elect former college stars to represent the nation in a college stars-professional champions football game September 1. The votes this summer was the largest ever cast in the history of the contest inaugurated some four years ago.

Many eager football fans have already applied for tickets for fall games—some of which will not be played until November. In fact, the University of Minnesota has just announced sell-outs for several of their future games.

Another fact that points to football prosperity is the increased interest that has been shown in other sports this year, especially baseball. At this date, nearly every club in the major leagues is ahead of its attendance figures for the same period last year, and as a whole they are likely to set a record for seasonal attendance.

Of course, there is a great deal of difference in baseball and football and there are some dyed-in-the-wool "horse-hide" fans who will not attend football games, and vice-versa, but most of them will be in the stands when the referee says, "Are you ready Captain?" It looks as if the old saying, get your tickets early and avoid the rush, is going to be quite advisable this fall.

PIRACY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

The Mediterranean is becoming a virtual pirate stronghold, with recurring attacks on merchant ships by submarines flying no flag and with identification marks carefully removed. Latest in the lengthy series of such episodes is the torpedoing of the British tanker Woodford near the Spanish coast, with the death of one man and the wounding of six. This occurred shortly after the British destroyer Havock had been attacked by a submarine, which was thought to have been sunk by depth charges from the intended victim.

What nation is conducting this piracy, in defiance of international law and all humanitarian rules? The finger of suspicion points quite definitely, asserts the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The Spanish rebels have only one submarine. No German undersea craft are in the Mediterranean, by last reports. The British press, reflecting the attitude of the government, bluntly places responsibility upon Italy.

Mussolini has become so intimately involved in the fortunes of Gen. Franco's revolt that he stops at nothing to insure its success. His troops are fighting in Spain, with no pretense at concealment, and no effort is made to justify this flagrant violation of non-intervention pledges. After the bombing of the Italian liner Mongolia a few weeks ago off Algiers, the Rome newspaper Tevere said: "Italian blood which was shed will be avenged, how, when and where the Chief judges most opportune." That process of vengeance is plainly in progress, and not only Spanish loyalist vessels but those of neutrals are its victims.

The recent protestations of friendliness between Italy and Britain have already proved meaningless. As a result of the attacks, the British some time ago instructed their ships to fire on any submarine firing on them, and now reinforcement of the Mediterranean fleet has been ordered. The "dangerous sea" has again become an acute danger spot.

Every successful man is educated. Bees have no book learning, but you never saw one that wasn't an expert.

Money is like the health. It seems the greatest good if you haven't got it, but means little to those who are used to it.

What animal, asks a school book, suffers most for the good of man? We know. It's the merchant who charges things.

Fish enthusiasts returning empty handed from their vacation fishing trips need not feel so downhearted. Congress fished around all summer long and caught nothing but a few bawlings out.

Kilts are again becoming popular in certain sections of Scotland. Perhaps the natives have discovered that cloth need not be wasted on kilts, unlike pants, because of cuffs.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

WASHINGTON—While the State Department is leaning over backward to avoid embroilment in the Far Eastern conflict, a recruiting officer almost in the shadow of the White House is busily enlisting men to fight in the Chinese army.

So far, about 200 American-born Chinese have signed up. Most of them are young members of Washington's miniature Chinatown, which has a population of around 5,000.

The secret recruiting office is in charge of George Moy, leading restaurateur and son of the late "mayor" of Chinatown. Moy's place of business is known among his people as "city hall."

Aviators and machine gunners are in chief demand, although all willing to fight are welcomed. Experienced fliers are being offered as high as $1,500 a month, with a bonus for every enemy plane they shoot down. A number of young Chinese are taking flying lessons at a nearby air school in preparation for Far Eastern service.

Recruits are given a thorough physical examination before they are accepted. If they pass muster, they are then required to sign papers that divest them of American citizens and make them Chinese subjects.

The Chinese colony is financing the recruiting office, as well as paying the traveling expenses of the volunteers.

Butter and Egg Buying

Without saying much about it, the Federal Government is getting to be the big butter and egg man in the East. During the first six months of this year, it stepped quietly into the market to buy eight million dozen eggs, while last year purchases of butter totaled three million pounds.

The purpose of this buying was to prevent price drops which might be disastrous to the farmer. It was through the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, which, incidentally, bought heavily not only in butter and eggs but in various other products, among them apples, grapefruit, onions, prunes, peaches, wheat, peas, syrup and skimmed milk.

Few are aware of it but the origin of this buying program was the famous slaughter of little pigs in 1935. At that time Mrs. Roosevelt telephoned Chester Davis, then Administrator of the AAA, suggesting that instead of destroying the pigs, the meat be given to needy families.

This idea was expanded during the drought of 1934, when the Government purchased cattle, and canned and distributed 100,000,000 pounds of canned beef.

Today the buying program, greatly enlarged, is chiefly for the purpose of stabilizing prices, although the commodities purchased still are used for relief.

Kennedy's Secret

Chairman Joe Kennedy of the Maritime Commission has a secret which other bureau chiefs, who shrinw in terror of Congress and shrink in terror of Congress and a great deal to share.

The dynamic, red-headed Bostonian has not only wrangled additional funds from Congress but at the same time has administered a sharp trouncing to the Comptroller General. Most agency heads would give a right arm to be able to score even one of these triumphs.

Kennedy won his double victory on the issue of employing private certified accountants to audit the books of the old Shipping Board.

When he took office, he asked for a report on the several hundred million dollars worth of property and outstanding balances that the Maritime Commission inherited from its predecessor. He expected a statement from certified accountants. Instead he was handed a report compiled by Shipping Board employes 15 years ago.

Kennedy refused to accept it. He asked Acting Comptroller General R. N. Elliott for authority to hire outside accountants at $50 a day to make a survey of the books.

Elliott turned down the request on the ground that not more than $25 a day could be paid for such services, despite Kennedy's formal declaration that the experts required for this job could not be secured for less than $50.

Plain Talk

Balked by the Comptroller General, Kennedy took his fight directly to Congress. Appearing before the House Appropriations Committee, he blasted both the former Shipping Board and Elliott. He remarked caustically that he had found the Board's books "in a very bad condition, with the general ledger unposted for eight months."

Elliott, he declared, had interpreted the law so narrowly that the Maritime Commission had found it impossible adequately to protect the property and interest of the Government.

The committee, impressed, wrote a provision into the third deficiency supply bill overriding Elliott, then gave Kennedy $75,000 and full authority to make a thorough audit of the Shipping Board books.

Poems That Live

DO YOU FEAR THE WIND?

Do you fear the force of the wind,
The slash of the rain?
Go face them and fight them,
Be savage again.
Go hungry and cold like the wolf,
Go wade like the crane:
The palms of your hands will thicken,
The skin of your cheek will tan,
You'll grow ragged and weary and swarthy,

Hamlin Garland.

The American Constitution

Questions and Answers Pertaining to the Constitution From "The Story of the Constitution" by the U. S. Sesquicentennial Commission, Representative Sol Bloom of New York, Director General

QUESTIONS

1. How many lawyers were members of the Constitutional convention?

2. Were the members of the Constitutional convention called "delegates" or "deputies," and is there any distinction between the terms?

ANSWERS

1. There probably were 34, out of 55, who had at least made a study of law.

2. Some of the states called their representatives "delegates;" some, "deputies;" and some, "commissioners," the terms being often mixed. In the convention itself they were always referred to as "deputies." Washington, for example, signed his name as "deputy from Virginia." The point is simply that whatever they called themselves, they were representatives of their states. The general practice of historians is to describe them as "delegates."

Diet and Health

by DR. LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

INDIVIDUAL MUST FIGHT DIPHTHERIA

Diphtheria is the one disease where prevention depends upon the personal effort of the individual.

Typhoid fever has disappeared largely because of control of the drinking water supply. When you go out and get a vaccination against typhoid you are simply taking an extra precaution: you are making things a little safer for yourself. The main guardian against typhoid fever is the cleanliness of the water supply.

With smallpox individual vaccination is more important, but still efficient quarantine, quick reporting of sporadic cases and prompt segregation with vaccination of contracts plays a role, certainly an important role in the present rarity of smallopx on this earth.

With diphtheria there is no possibility of central control. This is because many perfectly healthy people go around with diphtheria germs in their mouths and throats. It was with diphtheria that the importance of carriers was first recognized. Graham Smith found that 66 per cent of the members of a family where there had been a case of diphtheria harbored the germs. In families where precautions were taken to isolate the sick room, only 10 per cent were carriers. In infected schools 8.7 per cent of the healthy pupils were found to be carriers.

If it is asked why this does not turn into a universal epidemic of diphtheria, the answer is that the mechanisms are several. Most important is that a large proportion of the population under any circumstances, over the age of 15 are naturally immune to diphtheria. (By under any circumstances I mean natural condition when deliberate individual vaccination is not carried out.)

How Disease Is Spread

Then it has been shown that the saliva has an inhibitory action on germs, changing a virulent type of diphtheria to a non-virulent type in a short time.

Even so, in a state of nature, it is difficult to over-emphasize how a small focus of diphtheria can be widely spread. Chapin has given a graphic description of it—in fact too graphic to repeat in whole. The secretion of the mouth is used for a variety of purposes, and numberless articles are for one reason or another placed in the mouth, and the fingers are with great frequency raised to the mouth or nose. If indigo were secreted in the mouth and nose the fingers would continuously be stained a deep blue. All successfull commerce is reciprocal, and in this universal trade the fingers bring foreign secretions to the mouth of the owner, and there exchanging for its own, distribute the latter to everything that the hand touches. Everyone is busily engaged in the distribution of saliva, so that the end of each day finds this secretion all over.

Of course the pathogens die quickly on these objects. And it is well that the saliva has an inhibitory action, but in the presence of a focus of virulent infection the chances of distribution are infinite.

Unpleasant as this picture is, it is a fact of life and one that we can take advantage of to punch home the necessity for diphtheria immunization.

To accept this necessity and to act on it requires intelligence and individual initiative. The proof of the efficacy of diphtheria toxoid to protect the individual from diphtheria is available: but it requires intelligence to find it out and understand it. And then enough character to have the vaccination performed on the children for whom you stand sponsor.

Is Revenge Sweet

I HAVE heard that revenge is sweet, and once I believed it was not only sweet, but necessary. And many a time I have taken my revenge. Angered, I have flamed up like gasoline touch by a burning match, and I have said bitter words — and have then been ashamed to erase them with kinder words and decent action. It is strange what cruel words come through the lips when we are angry and how powerless we are to stop their utterance.

And it's strange, too, how in our minds and speech we reject that dark religion of revenge, but swing back to it in our moments of passionate anger, helpless before the storm. I have practiced swift revenge, but I have never believed in it—and most of us, I am sure, are alike in that. Even though we take it, we do not defend it.

Turning the pages of a book I came upon quotations about revenge and read them. Lord Bacon, who took his revenges frequently enough, called revenge "a kind of wild justice." Byron, who slashed out viciously when he was hurt, wrote, "Revenge is lost in agony, and wild remorse to rage succeeds." John Milton, often peevish in his blindness, said, "Revenge, at first thought sweet, bitter ere long, back on itself recoils." And Juvenal, the Roman, left us this: "Revenge is sweeter than life itself. So think fools."

It's no great trick, putting words together. But those are not more graceful phrases. Bacon and Byron and Milton and Juvenal all knew, out of bitter experiences, that revenge does not work. It is like the mirage that stumbling lost ones see before them in a desert—a green land where food is plenty and the cool water tumbles from rock to rock and washes the bitterness from our hearts. But you stagger toward it and put forth a hand to take your revenge and find life more dreadful than before. You have had your wild and terrible moment of joy, but it has not refreshed you. And you chew vainly on the dry and horrible morsels of Getting Even.

We KNOW that revenge is not sweet. Why do we let it fool us—again and again and again? Do we imagine we must take revenge as a duty, even as we take bitter medicine, even though we know it is folly? . . . . "So think fools."

What They Say

L. H. Archias (West Fourth St.)—While returning from our Alaskan trip I saw an amusing item in a Canadian paper. The item was from Charleston, Mo., and stated that two farmers exhibited a 16-foot, six inch stalk of corn from their Mississippi bottom-land farm, telling of a new hazard. They said levee land is so fertile farmers plant the corn, then run to get out of the way.

Love is for Tomorrow

CHAPTER 41

MARCIA sat on the observation car, watching the gleaming rails converge and disappear over the horizon as she sped to Santa Cruz. Her eyes ached with the strain of seeing, as she tried to study the swiftly changing scenes. Tall, fragrant smelling trees slunk past, a blur of the glistening sea flashed to the west, tiny towns slipped into oblivion.

She sensed rather than saw the flowers along the roadway, the contented happy life of the people who lived in this scenic wonderland. Marcia the artist was always quick to catch a picture, and just as sensitive to the underlying beauty. Of a sudden the carefree life under the wide flung skies held undeniable appeal to her, and she was glad to be rid of the city with its never ceasing demands on time and energy.

Particularly she was glad to be away from Gary, for she knew he presented a problem that would demand all of her tact. While her common sense told her that marriage with this man was practical, even logical, her heart screamed a warning. Almost as if she were the engineer on the train she was riding, she could see the signs ahead: "Dangerous Crossing", and the wig-wag signal that meant to stop, look and listen.

A raucous looking man in checkered cap and sporty clothes tried to interrupt her thoughts. "Going far?" he began genially. And when this won him no answer except a brief shake of her head, he went on undisturbed: "You a school teacher? I knew a teacher once—"

Marcia had a girl's distaste of being accused of having a pedagogical look. It was grand to be a teacher, but to look like one—unthinkable!

"You knew a teacher? I can't believe it," she said flatly. "What grade?"

"Oh, about the sixth." He refused to be abashed. "You see I never went further than that. Didn't need to; I could tell them all the answers long before that. What grade do you teach?—maybe I'll bring you a red apple some day."

Marcia wanted to snub him properly, but his fatuous efforts to be entertaining were pathetic rather than rude and she had a sudden desire to humor him. Before many miles had rolled under the wheels, Marcia knew his life history, his ambitions, his hopes. She was studying his ruddy face with kindly interest, when she saw him doff the ridiculous cap and smile from ear to ear. Following his gaze she saw workmen along the tracks, grinning broadly and waving.

"Always do that," he exclaimed with satisfaction. "Makes 'em feel good." Complacent, he settled back into the rickety chair.

"Now, girlie, if you don't teach, what do you do? How come you're running around loose without a ring on the finger? That's what women's hands were made for—rings, and rockin' babies, and things. Just wish I could have won hand and heart of some fair maid. Ah, me."

Marcia realized he didn't expect any answer to his remarks; in fact, when she did venture an opinion or a question it seemed to bounce gaily off his plump shoulders. With a sympathetic smile, Marcia realized the fellow was lonely, as lonely as she. He was probably too boorish to appeal to discriminating people, yet he was not satisfied with his own kind. She, too, faced a quandary of a different kind: too stubborn to take love as she found it, unhappy with the barren life without it.

Marcia lapsed into the introspective mood that had enveloped her at the start of the journey. She realized somehow that the coming week represented the calm before the storm. Like a sleeper loathe to wake up, she determined to absorb the maximum of health and inspiration from it.

"Inspiration should be easy," she remarked to herself, no longer bothering to speak her thoughts aloud to her unhearing companion. All around her were new experiences in beauty, and she reacted immediately. When the sun was setting, she reached the little beach town of Santa Cruz, and was met by Marie Winecoop. At sight of the angular plain faced woman ambling toward her, Marcia could hardly restrain a smile. But when the woman extended her hand in heartfelt welcome, she forgot the plain face in admiration of a really fine personality.

"Come, child. We've been waiting for you," she said after introducing herself. "We're mighty glad to have company, Tiny and me," she finished, stroking the big head of the St. Bernard by her side. At once Marcia felt as if she had come home, for she recognized in Marie a real friend. "I'll bet she wouldn't even be prejudiced in favor of her own cousin," the girl thought, then grinned to herself. "Matter of fact, she probably disapproves of Gary as being a sissy-britches." Which was almost Marie's term for the cultured and highly esteemed cousin.

"He's the salt of the earth," she was quick to tell Marcia, as she put her in the out-moded old Ford and raced up the winding roads to her summer cottage. "He bought my home up here, and takes care of me in grand style," she said cheerily, "but he and I are different. I've often told him I should have worn the pants in our family. I like to get out and garden and build things, and generally make a spectacle of myself."

Marcia noted her quick championship of the generous Gary, but was amused at the way she half apologized for his bookish habits.

"Maybe you'll disapprove of me, too," she said to her new friend. "I'm sort of a sissy—an artist, you know."

"Well, don't let it bother you," the outspoken woman said to Marcia's delight. "Some of us have to be according to a different pattern else there would be a deadly lot of monotony in this old world. You were made to please people; I was made to work."

Ellen, too, was made to work, Marcia thought suddenly. Women, it seemed, were designed according to some preconceived pattern, and unless they were clever enough to realize how their lives were cut out they couldn't fit the pieces together properly. "Mine must have been cut on the bias and stretched out of shape," she thought as she considered the difficulty she was having to make her life come out right.

Aloud she said, "I guess I'll have to be satisfied if my work pleases people. I seem to be sort of a misfit as a person."

Marie sensed the undercurrent of bitterness in the girl's tone, and turned to her sympathetically. "What you need is a little fattening up. Your only trouble is that you aren't big enough."

As she spoke the car turned into an inviting driveway, and Tiny jumped out of the back seat to lead them up to the house. His tail wagging in delight, he seemed proud to bring a visitor to the picturesque little house on the hillside. It looked more like a Cape Cod house than a California cabin, and Marcia admired the prim garden where Marie undoubtedly spent many happy hours.

During the days that passed so peacefully, Marcia found the crisp mornings a real incentive to work. She sketched patiently to develop roughs for the new book. The character of the hero engrossed her, and she found it surprisingly easy to arrive at a definite personality for this man Manders—with his sandy hair, serious gray eyes, and the long clean line of his determined jaw.

Afternoons she walked through the fragrant forests, sometimes accompanied by the misnamed Tiny, more often alone. Marie wisely left the girl to her own devices; realizing intuitively she needed time to think. She mothered the young artist ardently, then seemed almost ashamed of such a feminine trait.

"Why don't you ask me about Gary?" Marcia asked once.

"Don't guess it's any of my business," came the noncommittal answer.

"But he's your own cousin. Didn't he tell you that he and I—?" Marcia stopped in confusion. Surely Gary hadn't kept these details to himself when he asked Marie to accept her as a house guest.

"He said he thought a sight of you," she looked Marcia directly in the eyes. "Are you wanting to tell me? Do you like him as much as he likes you?"

Marcia smiled at the weak word she used to describe Gary's passionate love. Then frankly she said, "That's what I want to discover while I'm here."

"Not from me," the older woman disclaimed. "I'd never interfere. Things like that must come from the inside of you."

"You've been fine," Marcia said, to the woman's embarrassment. "I was almost afraid to come, afraid you'd be forcing Gary on me. If I do come around to his way of thinking, I want it to be of my own free will and not because of any outside influence—or disappointments."

Marcia's eyes clouded as she thought what these disappointments were, and wondered if she could ever live down the all possessing love she felt for Sandy. Vainly she tried to convince herself that life could not be lived in the past, and that with Sandy definitely out of her reach, she still had the future to face. In these moments the reassuring love of Gary seemed desirable, and she wondered if it would ever come to take the place of that other experience.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tomlinson who have been residents of Warsaw the past year while Mr. Tomlinson was employed on the construction of the new bridge to replace the Heath bridge over the Lake of the Ozarks, left last week for Harrisonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Short and Bobby visited relatives in Kansas City and Blackburn over the week end.

NINE RESCUED AS STEAMSHIP SINKS

PANAMA CITY, Fla., Sept. 3.—(AP)—A rescue fleet saved nine members of the crew of the sunken steamship Tarpon Thursday 5 others swam ashore and two bodies were recovered as frantic efforts were made to account for all aboard before nightfall.

With the fourteen saved or known dead, it was believed twelve others were still in the sea. Four coast guard cutters and a number of small craft scoured the sea.

Searchers feared other possible survivors could not stand the privations of another night in the water.

The coast guard cutter Triton reported it had recovered the body of Capt. W. G. Barrow and rescued nine survivors of the Tarpon, coastwise freighter swamped by heavy seas yesterdays 12 miles off shore.

Officers said they were taking the rescued seamen to Pensacola for treatment of exhaustion and exposure.

Capt. Barrow, 83-year-old skipper of the freighter, had a crew of 25 aboard when the Tarpon foundered. Addley Baker, seaman of Mobile, swam to shore with news of the disaster.

LOANS AVAILABLE IN REHABILITATION

Funds are again available in Pettis County for Rehabilitation loans to farm families needing credit for operating capital, it was announced by Oscar H. DeWolf, rehabilitation supervisor for the Resettlement Administration at Sedalia.

Following exhaustion of loan appropriations for the 1936-37 fiscal year late in June, forwarding of applications to the regional office in Indianapolis, Ind., was halted until the new appropriations became available.

"We have been notified that the present year's loan funds are on hand and that applications now will be received," Mr. DeWolf said. "However, the money has not been appropriated in 'unlimited' quantities. That means that we will have to hold applications down to include only those who are in a position to make good use of the money loaned."

In describing eligibility for rural rehabilitation loans, he said that only farm families who cannot get credit from any other government or recognized private loan agency can get RA loans. Designated as farmers are: owner-operators, tenants, sharecroppers, farm laborers or those who when last employed gained the major part of their income from farming operations.

The rehabilitation loan is repayable in a maximum of five years and bears a five per cent interest rate. It is intended to serve as operating capital for the purchase of equipment, machinery, livestock, feed and seed needed in doing a good job of farming.

Each applicant will be carefully investigated as to his farming experience and ability as well as to his general character before the loan is approved. In addition, a sound farm and home management plan must be mapped out and approved before the loan actually is made.

Mr. DeWolf said that any farm family interested in applying for a loan should get in touch with him at the courthouse in Sedalia on Monday, Wednesday or Friday morning from 9 a. m. to 12 m.

GIRL PLACED IN AN "IRON LUNG" DIES

DENVER, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Maybelle Outcalt, 15, one of two girl victims of infantile paralysis for whom artificial breathing devices were rushed to Denver from the east, died late Thursday at Denver general hospital.

Maybelle, who with two-year old Shirley Krause, shared Denver's only "iron lung" respirator until two arrived by airplane and streamlined train Thursday grew gradually worse despite the artificial breathing apparatus and succumbed.

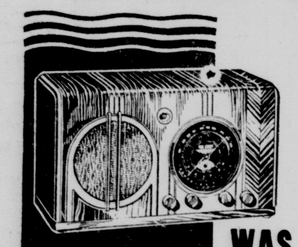

Shirley, who had occupied the "iron lung" most of the time for three weeks virtually gave up its use to the Outcalt girl last night. She was placed in the wooden respirator when it arrived from Toronto today and then transferred to the second "iron lung" which came from Chicago.

Maybelle was the second member of her family to succumb to infantile paralysis. A brother, George, Jr., died August 21. Maybelle was stricken Monday. The family is under quarantine.

Fried Chicken Dinner At The Thompson Home

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thompson, 1020 South Barrett avenue, entertained about ninety-five guests at a fried chicken dinner at their home Thursday night, employes of the Thompson Chevrolet Company and members of their families.

Thirty-eight chickens from the Thompson farm were dressed Thursday morning and then were cooked in an outdoor oven at the Thompson home. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have a large table in their lovely yard, and this was laden with chicken and other food, and guests were served cafeteria style.

An informal social time followed. Mrs. Buford Bettis and Mrs. John Ryan sang and were accompanied by Miss Mary Virginia Lueking.

NEUTRALITY IS "DEMAND" OF VETS

By The Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Veterans of Foreign Wars sent President Roosevelt today a copy of a resolution "demanding" neutrality legislation and withdrawal of American armed forces from foreign countries.

The resolution concluded with an "urgent request" to the President for a statement of United States foreign policy "in keeping with the declarations of this resolution."

It said:

"We demand mandatory neutrality legislation."

"We demand that the existence of war be recoginzed whether formalities of declaration have been made or not."

Labor Leaders To Give Addresses In Labor Day Observance

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—John L Lewis indicated today he will bid for a political alliance of farmers and labor in a broadcast address tonight.

The bushy-browed chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization said farmers were the "natural allies" of labor and added:

"Some of the means whereby labor expects to consolidate and further this natural alliance will be discussed in my speech."

Lewis' address will be broadcast by a radio network (CBS) from 8:30 to 9 p. m. (central standard time).

His intimation of its character recalled his statement at the end of congress criticizing the Democratic leadership. It was interpreted by many congressman as a threat of a third party in 1940. Senator Lundeen (FL-Minn) predicted a national labor party in the next presidential election.

Lewis said he also will talk about the bloody steel strike of the early summer and mention some of "the public officials who betrayed their trust and used the forces of government against labor."

His speech will be the first of a series of week-end oratorical efforts by labor leaders which may set forth further policy in the struggle for supremacy between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor.

Labor Day Addresses

William Green, A. F. of L. president, will speak at Dallas, Tex., Monday.

Other labor leaders who have arranged holiday speeches include John Frey, A. F. of L. metal trades chief, and John Brophy, CIO director.

Secretary Perkins will issue a general Labor Day statement Sunday.

The year since organized labor observed its last national holiday has been one of the most trying periods in its history.

Besides the steel strike the CIO conducted an active campaign with strikers in the automobile and textile fields and drove a wedge into A. F. of L. domination of national maritime unions.

Both Lewis and Green claim a membership of about 3,000,000 workers for their organizations.

As activities of these factions increased, the national labor relations board came into new prominence.

It has drawn charges from A. F. L. members of CIO "bias." Currently it is under attack from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an A. F. of L affiliate, for invalidating a closed shop agreement the union made with the National Electric Products Corp., Ambridge, Pa.

Dan W. Tracy, president of the A. F. of L. union, predicted yesterday the action meant another supreme court test of the Wagner labor act. A federal court had upheld the contract made by Tracy's union.

Among the major cases now before the board are a group arising from the steel strike.

Special Sabbath Program For The Adventists

political group would be able to establish a Totalitarian Polish regime without civil war, he said. He urged his countrymen to counterbalance the Totalitarian systems of their German and Russian neighbors by internal consolidation.

The pianist-statesman specifically urged amnesty for political prisoners, abolition of concentration camps, discontinuance of reprisals against peasant party leaders and a new parliamentary election.

service, and immediately thereafter a business session of the conference was conducted.

General Conference Official

Another General Conference representative from Washington, D. C., arrived on the grounds today. Rev. A. W. Cormack appeared before the delegates for the first time at the afternoon session held at 3:00 p. m. Mr. Cormack was for many years the executive in charge of denominational activities in the southern Asiatic division, with headquarters in Ponna, India.

Plans are being made for the observance of the Sabbath by the Adventists. As the sun goes down this evening, worship periods will exist in the individual tents, and the Sabbath will be observed until sundown Saturday. At 8:00 p. m. the president of the conference, E. L. Branson will speak.

The largest crowd of the convention is expected for the Sabbath services tomorrow. The Adventists are very faithful in their observance of Saturday, the seventh day as the Sabbath "according to the commandment," and from every corner of the state of Missouri, the believers will come for the special Sabbath program. Following the Sabbath school exercises at 9:00 a. m., Rev. A. W. Cormack will speak at the main service of the day at 11:00 a. m. In the afternoon at 3:00 p. m., two men will be ordained for the ministry, Robert M. Whitsett, of Columbia, and P. E. Shakespeare, secretary of the publishing department for the local conference. The president of the Union Conference, Rev. J. F. Piper, will be the evening speaker.

The Adventists are anxiously looking forward to the arrival Sunday of Rev. W. G. Turner, vice president of the denomination. Mr. Turner will speak at the 3:00 and 8:00 p. m. services Sunday. This will end the convention, and after the last service, all will gather in front of the auditorium, shake hands all around, and sing "What, Never Part Again." Then home to continue the work until convention time next near. Already, many are heard saying that they hope Sedalia will be chosen for 1938.

MARTHA RAYE TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

By The Associated Press.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3.—Martha Raye, Hi-De-Ho film singer and bride of three months, will file suit today for divorce, her attorney said, charging Beautician Wallace (Buddy) Westmore with "extreme cruelty."

Attorney Vincent A. Marco's admission that the suit was prepared culminated days of denial by the wide-mouthed comedienne that she and her 21-year-old husband would part.

Marco declined to elaborate on the nature of the charges.

Although Miss Raye often admitted, "sure, my face is funny—I took a peek into the mirror once," she never wanted for beaux before she and Westmore began their romance.

Her true name is Margie Yvonne Reed.

"MARRIED BEFORE BREAKFAST" BRINGS LAUGHS AND ROMANCE TO . . . . SCREEN

Teaming Robert Young and Florence Rice for the third time, "Married Before Breakfast," directed by Edwin L. Marin, opens today at the Liberty Theatre for a two-day run.

As Tom Wakefield, a care-free young inventor, Young becomes enmeshed in a series of laugh-provoking adventures with Kitty Brent, played by Miss Rice. Barnett Parker, as Young's valet, is responsible for much of the comedy. Other featured roles include June Clayworth as June Baylin, socially prominent fiancee of Wakefield; and Hugh Marlowe as Kenneth, the insurance-selling beau of Kitty Brent.

Young recently completed "I Met Him in Paris" with Claudette Colbert and "The Emperor's Candlesticks" with William Powell and Luise Rainer. Miss Rice's most recent film was "All Is Confusion" with Joe E. Brown. The romantic twosome have previously appeared together in "Sworn Enemy" and "The Longest Night."

The principal sets for their new picture include a palatial Fifth Avenue mansion, a swank hotel suite, an interior of a large office building, a middle-class boardinghouse and a travel agency office. There are twenty-six major sets in all, together with many exteriors.

T. J. Manville, Jr., Wants "April Man" Attorney In Adjusting Marital Affairs

By The Associated Press.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Tommy Manville, man of many blondes and many dollars, announced this afternoon he had asked a Manhattan physician to look into his sanity, thus anticipating a move his fourth wife, Marcelle Edwards, was reported making.

In the seclusion of his fortress-like home on Long Island Sound, the white-haired asbestos heir, took time off from preparations for a big Labor Day week-end party to announce:

"I have learned they are attempting to have a commission examine me because I am squandering Marcelle's money."

So, he said, raising his voice to a shout over the telephone, he had called up Dr. William H. Bishop and a group of the doctor's lawyers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—There are 20,000 lawyers in New York, and Thomas Franklin Manville, Jr., of the gray hair and gay heart, wants to see one of them—an "April man."

He put a full page advertisement in a morning tabloid paper today which read:

The remainder of the "ad" was just white space, but Tommy expanded verbally.

"He must be an April person," went the specifications, "because I was born in that month and such men have warlike horoscopes. There is nothing like an April man when there's warring to be done."

That meant, he said, "a smart lawyer who will throw firebrands and stinkpots when he has to, promptly and efficiently."

As might be suspected by those acquainted with the oft-headlined career of the debonair heir to millions made in asbestos, the attorney is sought in connection with Thomas Franklin Manville, Jr.'s, marital affairs.

The point at issue is how large a slice of the Manville fortune Mrs. Manville—nee Marcelle Edwards of the Broadway stage—will take with her when she bids official goodbye to the Manville fireside. There was some talk a while back that Mrs. Manville thought a million dollars would be a nice figure but Tommy disposed of that with an airy "my pocketbook is hot but not that hot."

His latest idea is to get Marcelle together with her predecessors in the Manville alumnae and have them talk it over. The catch is that it would be hard to bring them together.

This was because Mrs. Florence Huber Manville (No. 1) is recuperating from an operation; Mrs. Louis McCoin Manville (No. 2) is in Hollywood; and Mrs. Avonne Taylor Manville (No. 3) is somewhere else.

He did think it would be nice, though, because he was confident the girls would be able to settle the thing without benefit of barristers.

"My point is," he said, "that the less the lawyers get, the more there is for the ladies."

cipally as economy measures. The St. Louis and Kansas City laws contain no "signature clauses" as does the St. Joseph act.

Reestablish Treasurers

Re-establishment of the office of county treasurer in the 74 counties in which it was abolished the first of the year is one of the laws going into effect which State Senator Phil M. Donnelly of Lebanon labelled "grab-bag" legislation. Other laws increasing jobs an raising officials' pay also become effective.

The law providing for an increase in the gasoline gallonage tax from 2 to 3 cents, after December 7, 1938, is among those to go into effect, but will probably be referred to the people in the November, 1938 general election.

The state probations and parole board to recommend paroles, commutations of sentence, and pardons to the governor and to supervise generally the conduct of inmates at all state penal institutions, is set up in another law.

New Prison Guards

About sixty new guards at the state penitentiary here are authorized when the 56-hour week becomes legal at the prison starting Monday.

Also going into effect next week are several liquor laws, one of which prohibits the importation of liquor and beer from states which discriminate against Missouri-made beverages.

Owners and custodians of livestock and poultry will benefit, starting Monday, by the new dog tax law. Tax collections, instead of going into the road fund, will be used to reimburse persons whose livestock or poultry is killed by canine marauders.

The child labor law, enacted in preference to ratification of the federal constitutional amendment, will prohibit products made by persons under 16 or mined by persons under 18 from being sold or offered for sale. Agricultural products are exempt.

Other laws going into effect provide for....An increase in salary for 5-year highway patrolmen....State regulation of narcotics sales.....establishment of a world's fair commission....appointment of a state entomologist....tighter regulations for numerous state boards.....and scores of local bills and minor measures.

TO DEATH FOR THE KILLING OF OFFICER

By The Associated Press.

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., Sept. 3.—Thomas J. Hutto, 56, formerly of Dallas, Texas, was put to death in the electric chair today for the slaying of an Eldorado police officer last July 21.

He went to the chair with an audible prayer for "forgiveness for what I have done."

Hutto was convicted of killing James A. Yocom, 40-year-old night patrolman at El Dorado in a gun fight following the $60 holdup of a drug store. Hutto was wounded in the right leg during the exchange of shots.

After the Yocom slaying, Hutto was charged also with robbery and kidnaping in connection with a small crime wave in southwest Arkansas. In addition to the death sentence, he was given 60 years on a guilty plea to the kidnaping of V. G. Little, Texarkana resident, and 15 years on a guilty plea to robbery charges.

PADEREWSKI IN WARNING OF STRIFE

WARSAW, Sept. 3.—An urgent attempt by Ignace Jan Paderewski to warn his Polish countrymen against the danger of civil war has been suppressed by the Warsaw government.

Paderewski, now 76 years old, one of the founders of post-war Poland, its first premier and one-time foreign minister, sent his warning-appeal to the Polish press from his villa in Switzerland.

The appeal was published at Katowice but when newspapers in Warsaw, the capital, attempted to print it they were suppressed.

The famous pianist said in his letter he was extremely worried over news of recent peasant riots in which many were killed. He warned his countrymen—living as they do between two powerful nations (Germany and the Soviet union—that they could not afford a civil war.

Warren William Got Along Swell With Baby Actor

A striking parallel to real life dramas centering about court battles for custody of wealthy children forms a human interest background for the introduction of a new screen child destined to achieve stardom.

The youngster is four-year-old Kitty Clancy, and her screen bow is "Midnight Madonna," coming Sunday to the Liberty Theatre for a two days' engagement, a tense story dealing with the efforts of a wastrel father to take his child from her mother. Mady Correll, new to the screen but prominent on Broadway, plays the mother, while Warren William heads the strong cast portraying the role of the young mother's friend.

RELIGIOUS PLAYS IN PARK SERVICES

(By Church Reporter)

The Ministerial Alliance of Sedalia has been conducting the open air evening religious services each Sunday during the summer, at Liberty Park.

The ministers of the various churches taking their turn in presenting the splendid gospel messages that have been enjoyed by hundreds of people of this community. Splendid musical programs have been given and greatly enjoyed by all.

As the evening shadows fell and twilight cast an enchanting quiet over Sedalia's beautiful park, crowds of people, young and old gathered there each Sabbath evening in a spirit of worship, the different denominations uniting in one great service together each week.

On Sunday evening at 7:30 the last Union Service of this season will be held, and a special treat is being arranged for the enjoyment of this occasion. Dr. J. C. English pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church South, who is much interested in dramatics in religious education, has done a bit of fine creative work along that line, and in appropriateness to the Labor-Day holiday, he has writtten three short one act plays and these are being prepaired by groups of young people of the various churches. The first play is entitled "What Price Charity". The second "The Hobo's Mind" and the third "The Price of A Home." Appropriate musical program is being arranged. Lighting effects will be installed, and stage settings will make the scenes realistic.

A replica of a stained glass cathederal window will be shown and special lighting will enchant its effectiveness, Rev. O. J. Rumpf, pastor of the Evangelical church will tell the story of its conception. Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer will preside over the evening's program.

The public is cordially invited to enjoy this closing program of the season, and see these plays written by Dr. English, popular pastor of Sedalia, played by the young people of the various churches of the city and supervised by Mrs. Frank S. Leach who is director of music and dramatice for the Council of Religious Education for Pettis county.

SERGEANT WHERRITT OF PATROL TO CAPTAINCY

By The Associated Press.

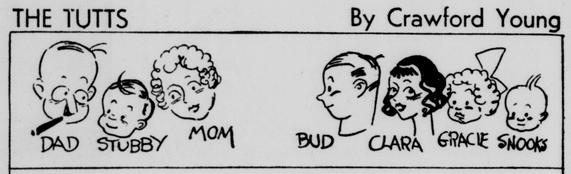

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—Sergeant J. M. Wherritt of the headquarters troop of the state highway patrol was promoted to a captaincy by Col. B. Marvin Casteel, superintendent of the patrol.

Nelson Items

(Mrs. J. W. Cox)

James Thomas Coleman, who was born in Phelps county March 4, 1848, died at his home near Nelson, August 26. On February 12, 1885 he was married to Mary Jane Clauton who preceded him in death May 14 last.

Two children survive: Mrs. Worth Coburn of Kansas City and Russell Coleman of the home.

Mr. Coleman came to Nelson in 1898 and for 11 years was engaged in banking. After leaving here he resided in Canton City, Colo., and Kansas City, returning in 1923 to his farm here.

A short funeral service was held at the grave Saturday by Rev. Herman Taylor of Blackwater. Those present from a distance were Mrs. Worth Coburn, son and two daughters of Kansas City, Mrs. Minnie Nelson and Mrs. Jewell Null of Mexico, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leaton and son Lester of Longwood spent Sunday with Mrs. E. P. White.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Barrow, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jeffress dined with Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Ault. Herschel Wilson returned Friday from his trip across the Atlantic.

Miss Della Murphy of St. Louis spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. William McGraw and the remainder of the week with Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy near Postal.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson came Saturday from Huron, Kansas to visit his mother, Mrs. Fannie Thompson and other relatives.

Mrs. H. E. Oakes of Mangum, Oklahoma, Mrs. R. O. Smith, of Lexington, Oklahoma; Mrs. T. W. Marr, of Kansas City visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Staples Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Bridgwater has been seriously ill for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peters and daughters, Geneva and Ann Marie of Morrison, Mo., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. McClure Monday night. They were on their way to the State Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rife and son Junior of Houstonia were geusts of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thomas Sunday.

Marshall Poindexter, of Blackwater, is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Chas, Poindexter.

Newton and Paul Orrison of Kansas City, spent last week with their sister, Mrs. L. F. McClure. The party went to Slater Sunday to visit in the Hockaday-Spencer home.

Those from Nelson to attend the Saline Baptist Association were: Virgil Leaton, Mrs. O. H. Edwards, Mrs. J. E. Edwards, Mrs. Lewis McCoy, Mrs. Charles Conaway, Mrs. Homer Conaway and Mrs. Faris Allen.

Nelson's new school building will be dedicated September 4. The program will continue throughout the afternoon and evening. Music will be furnished by the state school band.

Mrs. C. G. Mayfield returned Saturday from Kansas City. Her son Cecil who has been critically ill is much improved.

DESTROYERS OF BRITISH SEEK MYSTERY 'SUBS'

French Augment Force In Hunt For Maritime Marauders

BY WITT HANCOCK

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Four lithe destroyers of His Majesty's home fleet furrowed a swift path toward the western Mediterranean today to help track down guerilla submarines that have terrorized international shipping with torpedo attacks.

The admiralty announced the Fury and Forester, sailing from Portsmouth, and the Fortune and Firedrake from Chatham, would join five other destroyers in a heavy concentration off Spain's east coast.

These trim warcraft will blanket a wide area of the Mediterranean about the spots where only two days ago the British destroyer Havock and the British tanker Woodford were torpedo targets. The havock escaped, the Woodford was sunk.

The four destroyers comprise the 11th division of the sixth home fleet flotilla. The 12th division, which is the remainedr of the sixth flotilla, was already on search duty off the Spanish coast—the flotilla leader Keith and destroyers Fearless, Foxhound, Fame and Foresight.

This direct naval action was but one of Britain's double-barreled policy to curb the mysterious maritime outrages. The other avenue was through negotiation toward unified action by affected powers.

France, a pretty consistent ally of Britain through the troublous months of trying to keep the Spanish war in Spain, was expected to propose a method of collective action at a conference of Mediterranean powers late next week at Geneva.

France Deeply Concerned

France, herself deepy concerned over the threat to Mediterranean shipping and her own colonial communications, placed warcraft on patrol duty, augmenting the British naval force hunting the maritime marauders.

The French warships D'Iberville, Ipricenie and Verdun arrived today at Algiers to protect the French shipping lanes.

The situation was aggravated most recently by reports last night that the Soviet cargo steamer Blagoey had been sunk in the northern Aegean sea and its wireless operator killed.

Captain Denis Kameliske of the Blagoev said the attacking submarine flew the Spanish insurgent flag.

The attack on the Blagoev was much the same as the others—except that the attacked displayed a flag.

Two torpedoes knifed through the waves, one as a warning shot and the other into the side of the ship. The crew scarcely had time to escape.

Another incident—this one attributed directly to Spanish insurgents—was reported from Bone, Algeria. A band of insurgents said to have come from Algiers seized the Spanish government freighter Marnegro while it lay at anchor and escaped with the vessel.

One report said the captain of the freighter cooperated with the insurgents whom he had contacted at Algiers.

Under the French plan expected to be taken to Geneva for examination next week, the warship of any participating nation would go to the aid of an attacked merchantman of any other nation. It was believed Turkey, Greece, Egypt, the Spanish republican government, and the Soviet Union would wish to be included in the mutual protective setup.

Brings Angry Denials

The British press, in fact, has hinted as much, bringing anrgy denials from the Italian press and pooh-pooh contradiction in official Fascist quarters.

The newspaper Akcham at Istanbul reported today that Turkish customs officials at Inebolu had sighted the conning tower of an unidentified submarine a mile off the Black Sea coast.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, warned in Moscow that the sinking of the Soviet motorship Timiryazev "by an Italian submarine" was a challenge to Russian rights on the sea for which "Fascist pirates who are going to extremes" must "pay dearly."

(The Timiryazev was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine last Monday in the Mediterranean off the coast of Algiers on its way from Black Sea ports to Le Harve and Liverpool. Its attacker was not then identified.)

The insurgent cruiser Almirante Cervera blocked Gijon, Bay of Biscay port today, bottling up international shipping, including seven British merchantmen engaged in evacuating refugees.

Two insurgent minelayers and an armed merchantman backstopped the cruiser, closing escape from the harbor while the insurgent army, 20 miles away, pushed toward the government-held city.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's airmen, supporting the campaign to drive the government out of Aviedo province, its last foothold on the northern coast, made frequent bombing raids.

Not Attend Conference

ROME, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Usually well informed fascists said today that Italy would not attend any conference at Geneva on Mediterranean naval attacks, even if it were held separately from League of Nations sessions.

These persons gave four reasons:

1. Italy will not go to Geneva until the question of her Ethiopian conquest is settled.

2. Such a conference has not been officially prepared.

3. It would interfere with European non-intervention committee work.

4. The time is not ripe for such a meeting.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Augusta Priest

Mrs. Walter Gillespie, 1623 West Sixteenth street, received word today of the death of her aunt, Mrs. August Priest, aged about 80, widow of the late Dr. Eugene Priest, which occurred at Nevada, Mo.

Interment will be at California, Mo., at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The message was sent to Mrs. Gillespie by her cousin, Mrs. Margaret Maddox.

Mrs. Priest was the wife of Mrs. M. E. Grinstead's youngest brother. Mrs. Grinstead, now 104 years of age, is living with a son in Houstonia. She will not be able to attend the funeral, but among those who will attend are Mrs. Gillespie and Roy Taylor.

Her death occurred at her home, 204 South West street in Nevada on her birthday and just ten years after the death of her sister, Miss Mattie Adams.

America Augusta Adams was a daughter of Eli Adams and his wife, Sarah Johnson Adams. Mr. Adams was born and reared in Richmond, Va., but moved to Missouri in 1832. Mrs. Priest was born and reared in Cooper county, Missouri. Through her father Mrs. Priest was descended from President John Quincy Adams. She was born on her father's farm near New Salem, Cooper county, and attended the schools at New Salem, then she entered Christian College at Columbia. After completing her work at Christian College she returned to New Salem to teach school.

Her marriage to Dr. E. L. Priest of Sedalia took place at Holden on September 5, 1883, and they went to California, Mo., to make their home. They lived in California until 1889, when they came to Nevada. Dr. Priest, who had received his medical education in New York City and in Paris, France, practiced here until his death in 1901. When Dr. and Mrs. Priest came to Nevada they bought a cottage located on the lot on which the present home was built and lived there for several years. But more than forty years ago they sold the cottage and it was moved away, and they built the present home.

Funeral of William Hillmer

Funeral services for William Hillmer, 83 years old, who died at the Bothwell hospital Wednesday afternoon, were conducted at the Gillespie Funeral Home at 2 o'clock and at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, Broadway and Massachusetts avenue at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Herman H. Heidbreder, pastor of the church, officiated.

Friends who served as pallbearers were John Kurtz, George Schaffer, Fred Keller, August Tieman, John Cordes and Claude Kueck.

The church choir was in charge of the music.

Interment was in Crown Hill cemetery.

Caleb Fisher

Caleb Fisher following a lingering illness passed away at 12:30 o'clock this morning at the home of his son, Henry Fisher, 420½ South Osage avenue.

Mr. Fisher was the son of Truston and Mary Jane Fisher, deceased, and was born May 8, 1861. He had been a Sedalia resident for several years and is survived by the following children: Mrs. James Mailen, Kansas City, John Fisher, Sedalia, Mrs. Verne Mullens, Otterville, Mrs. Dave Morris, Sedalia, Mrs. Oma Hunt, this city and the son at whose home he passed away, also Mrs. James Greebe, Kansas City together with numerous grandchildren.

The following sisters and brothers also survive: Stephen Fisher, Sedalia; John Fisher, Kansas City, Dever Fisher, Fortuna; Bolivar Fisher, Otterville; Mrs. Joseph Milburn and Mrs. Mary Hatfield, Sedalia, and Mrs. Anna Porter, Kansas City.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Mr. Carmel church south of Syracuse, the Rev. Bomar, of Tipton, to officiate.

Interment will be in the church cemetery.

TAVERN KEEPER FATALLY SHOOTS SON

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Jacob Duda, 63, heard a window shatter in his tavern early today, fired one shot at two men standing outside, called police and went back to sleep.

Four hours later his son, Alexander, 29, was found dead of a bullet wound on a railroad embankment nearby. Police said he evidently had collapsed in flight.

Officers found the ax which the two men had used to break the window and seized a youth they said was Alexander's companion.

Captain Martin Wojciechowski said young Duda was scheduled for arraignment today on a charge of burglarizing the home of a neighbor.

The father said he had been sleeping in his tavern because it was burglarized several months ago.

Fuller Breaks Record Burbank To Cleveland

The fliers, their ranks decimated by accidents, flew toward the field dedicated for four days to aviation's annual three-ring circus.

Under a blistering sun relieved spasmodically by small gusts of wind, spectators watched fighting units of the army, navy and marine corps air arms drone in formation over the field. Immediately in front of the grandstands manufacturers grouped their 1937 airplanes, one of them a tailless affair, which shed its wings on landing and taxied around the field like baby carriage fitted with an electric fan from the corner drug store.

The northwest corner of the field, in front of the pylon where Lee Miles, of Fort Worth, Tex., plummeted to death last night on a test flight, the biggest of American transsort planes in scheduled operation provided contrast for the stubby-winged service ships.

First out of Burbank, Calif., Miss Cochran in a Beechcraft machine, averaged 216 miles an hour to Wichita, Kas., where she refueled at 8:04 a. m. (CST).

Earl Ortman, Los Angeles, took off at 7:01 a. m. landed at Alburque at 9:32 and resumed the flight at 9:57.

Milo Burcham, Long Beach, was off at 3:44 and landed at Oklahoma City for five minutes at 9:20.

Lieutenant Joseph Mackey, Findlay, O., flying Roscoe Turner's veteran Wedell-Williams special, took off at 6:16 a. m and spent 14 minutes at Albuquerque before taking off at 9:14.

Two hours and 17 minutes after his takeoff from Albuquerque, Lieut. Mackey landed his golden speed plane at the Wichita, Kas., airport at 11:21 a. m., took on 158 gallons of gas and roared into the sky again eight minutes later. He said he probably would stop at Indianapolis to refuel.

E. C. Sundorph, Cleveand, took off at 2:30 a. m. and was in Kansas City eight hours and 16 minutes later. He spent nine minutes refueling and was away at 10:45 a. m.

Roaring along at a 280-mile-an-hour clip, Frank Fuller of San Francisco landed at Kansas City at 10:53 four hours and 58 minutes away from the Los Angeles starting line.

Frank Sinclair of Farmingdale, L. I, was away from Los Angeles at 5:39 but developed minor motor trouble when he landed at Amarillo, Tex., at 9:50 a. m. His blue and yellow Seversky monoplane was held there more than an hour while mechanics replaced a broken exhaust collector ring. He was in the air again at 10:55 a. m.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Lee Miles' Fort Worth, Tex., speed flier, was killed late Thursday on the eve of the opening of the National Air Races tomorrow when he tore off a wing and crashed his special racer on a test flight at Cleveland airport.

Miles' body was pulled from the wreckage of his ship about a half-hour after the crash. His plane did not burn, airport officials. They believed the flier had the foresight to pull the switches when he found he was in trouble.

Miles, a figure in the American air racing game for many years, was rounding a pylon at the north end of the field when, spectators said, one wing was sheared off by the tremendous buffeting of the wind, and the machine plummeted into a grove of trees adjoining the airport.

Witnesses said that obviously he had no chance to use his parachute because of his altitude.

Miles was entered in the Greve trophy race over a 150-mile close course on Sunday.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE TO BE INCREASED

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3.—School bells for most of Missouri's 750,000 youngsters will ring next week.

The state department of education reported today all was in readiness for opening of the 1937-38 school year, with prospects of a 10,000 to 15,000 increase in enrollment throughout the state.

An "optimistic feeling" among the 25,000 teachers was reported as salary restorations and increases have been general throughout the state.

Seventeen new first class high schools have been approved since last year, bringing the total number to 735. Sixteen new vocational agriculture school and 12 home economics departments have been established.

During the last month, the state department has cooperated with county superintendent of schools in holding county plan meetings, outlining the new work for the year.

Some rural schools have opened in the last week or two, but most are scheduled to start next Monday or Tuesday, and a few a week later.

Had Tonsils Removed

New Chinese Thrust Shifts War to Heart Of Shanghai

teer and two Chinese. Another shell fell next to the Italian consulate.

Spray of Crossfire

A heavy artillery shell exploded in the international settlement at the junction of Peking Road and Shanghai's Bund. Crossfire from Chinese and Japanese batteries sprayed about the U. S. cruiser Augusta.

Police estimated 11 persons were wounded, two seriously, by the shell which struck the foreign business district. Settlement authorities closed the Bund and waterfront to traffic.

Shrapnel fell over a wide area, including the section containing the British consulate. At nightfall, six Chinese were wounded by shrapnel bursting over the French concession.

Two Japanese destroyers took positions tonight directly behind the Japanese flagship Idzumo, not far from the Augusta.

By dusk, six Japanese naval vessels had steamed upstream from Woosung to reinforce the harried Idzumo.

The United States supply ship Gold Star ran a gauntlet of shell fire to evacuate about 100 wives and children of American marines. The ship sailed for Kobe, Japan. It was the first American refugee ship to leave since bombardment of the Dollar Line President Hoover Monday.

The Japanese government prepared for a long war by drafting an emergency war budget of more than $600,000,000, more than Japan spent on the last Sino-Japanese war and the Russo-Japanese war combined. It raised the war total to $762,600,000.

An emergency session of parliament will consider the budget tomorrow.

Japan moved to consolidate its control over the North China provinces of Hopeh and Chahar. At Peiping there were indicatlons that the government of Japanese dominated Manchoukuo would be transferred to Peiping, with Emperor Kang Teh installed as ruler of the combined areas.

Report of Mutiny

Chinese at Shanghai, however, were encouraged by some reports from the north which said several Manchoukuoan regiments had mutinied and killed their Japanese officers.

In Shanghai itself, one Japanese spokesman declared Chinese trench mortars and field guns from Pootung had shelled the Kongkew (Japanese section) of the international settlement without warning, killing many Japanese civilians.

"There will be retribution," he said.

"If Chinese forces continue killing innocent Japanese civilians we must reverse our former policy of meticulously avoiding Chinese civilian population areas."

(Thus far in the Shanghai war Japanese bombs and shells have killed hundreds of Chinese non-combatants in bombardments of Chinese quarters of the city.)

The spokesman added that because of today's hostilities no foreigners except newspapermen would be permitted to enter Shankhai's Hongkew and Yangtzepoo areas.

He complained bitterly that Chinese attackers of Japanese in these sectors had come in as "regulars camouflaged in civilian clothes as peaceful citizens."

Reminded that a Japanese naval supply ship anchored in front of the Japanese consulate had drawn most of the Chinese fire, the spokesman declined to comment.

Mayor O. K. Yui replied to the Japanese spokesman's statement by saying Japanese ships had bombarded the Pootung area across the Whangpoo from Shanghai and "our land batteries were compelled to retaliate."

As evening fell, the effect of the Chinese fire was intensified and the harried Japanese rushed three warships up the Whangpoo from Woosung, they took up position just off the garden bridge at the foot of the Bund. An anti-torpedo net was thrown out around a 25,000-ton Japanese transport which has been the principal Chinese target.

MOTHER KEEPS HER MIND ON BREATHING

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Sept 3.—Mrs. Dorothy Gossick, 25, forced herself to stay awake today to give attention to her breathing.

Mrs. Gossick, mother of a 5 year old boy, was stricked with infantile paralysis and the General hospital's one available "iron lung" was keeping Harold Bell, 7, alive.

A respirator the city ordered recently was expected to arrive late today from Chicago and until its arrival Mrs. Gossick must stay awake, setting her mind on the process of breathing.

Harold Bell, son of Mrs. Mabel Bell, a widow, was placed in the respirator yesterday when it became possible to remove Martha Dee Benson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Benson, because of her improved condition.

AMBULANCE CRASHES INTO FRONT OF TAVERN

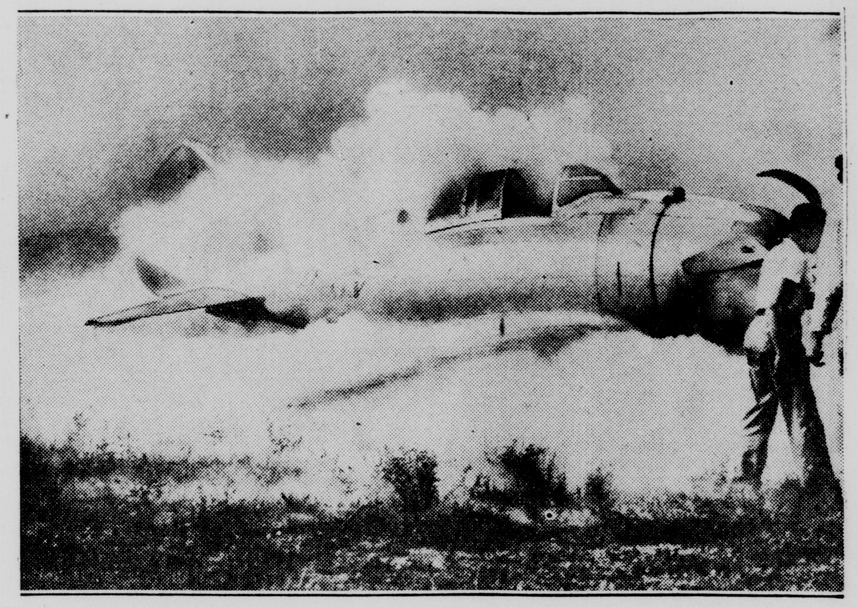

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—An ambulance driver placed "an ambulance call" for his vehicle late last night after the skidding machine crashed through the front of a tavern and injured one man.

Melville Reddy, 32, the driver, blamed wet street car tracks for the accident. A police emergency truck removed the ambulance from its place beside the wrecked bar.

Seversky's Derby Plane in Crack-up

Spouting smoke from all sides, the low-wing monoplane, which Major Alexander de Seversky planned to fly in the Bendix Trophy race, is shown as it flopped in a spectacular groundloop during a take-off from Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y. The noted airplane builder hopped clear and was unharmed but the plane was so seriously damaged by flames that a transcontinental record attempt has been cancelled.

MRS. HILL GOES TO FINAL ROUND

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City and Sara Guth of St. Louis, winner and runnerup respectively last year, progressed easily today to the final round of the Missouri women's golf tournament.

Mrs. Hill defeated Iva May Pilcher of Mexico, Mo., 6 and 5, in one semi final match. In the other, Miss Guth downed Mrs. P. L. Pepper of Kansas City, 6 and 4.

Tomorrow's championship match will be over the 36-hole route. Mrs. Hill defeated Miss Guth last year, 10 and 9.

Mrs. C. E. Larson of Joplin won the Indian Hills flight consolation today by defeating Mrs. H. T. Ashton, St. Louis, 2 and 1.

REJECT CONTRACT WITH EGG HANDLERS

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 3.—More than 200 members of the Missouri Farmers Association unanimously rejected a proposed contract for the Poultry and Egg Handlers' Union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, which claims a majority of the 220 employes of the Producers Produce Company here.

The Association offered a 5-cent an hour wage increase at a meeting yesterday. The union had asked a 10-cent raise. William Hirth of Columbia, Association president, strongly urged the contract be rejected.

NET IS SPREAD FOR CHECKING MANIPULATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Officials spread a net today in which, they said, they hoped to trap large speculators attempting to manipulate prices of corn, wheat, cotton and other farm commodities in violation of federal regulations.

For the first time, the commodity exchange administration, which supervises speculative trading in farm products, ordered 900 registered commission houses to report all commodity accounts that are controlled "by any person other than the owner."

WILL OF LATE W. A. KAHL FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of the late William A. Kahl, Route 4, has been field in probate court. To his brother, Louis Kahl, he left 1-8 of the total proceeds of his real and personal property; to Albert F. Kahl 1-8; to the children of his sister, Mrs. Nicholas Mertz, Amelie Mertz, Lillian Mertz and George Mertz, 1-24 each and to his sister, Mary Wood, 5-8 of the estate.

E. E. Ferguson was named executor.

PLAN FOR LOUIS-SCHMELING MATCH

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Negotiations for a return match between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, with the heavyweight title at stake, neared a climax today.

Contracts were drawn up, preparatory to a conference between Schmeling and Promoter Mike Jacobs at the offices of the 20th Century Sporting Club.

It was understood Jacobs plans the match for next June, probably at the Yankee stadium, but the promoter declined to confirm any details or predict, definitely, that articles would be signed today.

"We have been trying to make the match for some time," said Jacobs, "but all I can say now is that it looks like we will get together."

Meantime the New York Sun said "all details, including the percentage Schmeling will receive, will be ironed out at this afternoon's conference."

DETHRONE LESLIE IN GOLF TOURNEY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—Championship stock of Ray Billows, Inc., skyrocketed along the rolling Los Angeles Country Club fairways today as sixteen players sought the western amateur crown left kicking around by dethroned Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, Mo.

For instead of blowing sky high as many a soothsayer had predicted the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., youth who forced Johnny Goodman to the 36th hole in the national tourney at Portland a week ago intends if he can, to still take a title back home with him.

While favorites fell in the first two rounds of upsets yesterday Billows played better than par golf with an apparent unconcern.

BILLOWS DEFEATS ERICKSON IN THIRD ROUND

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Third round results of the Western Amateur Golf Championship included:

Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., defeated Don Erickson, Alhambra, Calif., 3 and 2.

Stole New Hearse Without Brakes

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 2.—Somebody stole a brand new motor hearse from W. C. Croy, local undertaker, last night and today Croy is checking hospitals with the hope of locating the thief.

QUESTION SUSPECT IN BANK ROBBERIES

FORSYTHE, Mo., Sept. 3.—The arrest last night near Mansfield of Wade Rippee 39 years old, concluded a five year hunt for the man who escaped a few days after his arrest in February, 1932, in connection with robbery shortly before of the Bank of Forsythe, Sgt. H. J. Turnbull of the state highway patrol said today.

Rippee was captured at the home of his father, Oscar Rippee, who lives on a farm near Mansfield. He was not armed and while he tried to flee when a possee of officers arrived, he offered no resistance when cornered.

Sgt. Turnbull said Rippee is one of five men who were charged with participating in the robbery of the bank. Percy Rippee, a brother, was scheduled to be released from the state penitentiary today after serving a five year sentence. Another brother, Collins Rippee, died in the prison hospital three years ago. Ralph Newton was sentenced to five years and Chester Huffman drew a 12 year sentence for the holdup.

Rippee, the officer said, denied any part in the robbery two weeks ago of the Mountain Grove, Mo., bank in which about $6,000 was taken. He did admit, however, he had been in the Mansfield district since about August 1.

Officers said they planned to take Rippee to the county jail at Hartville this afternoon.

Turnbull said those participating in the raid in which Rippee was captured were highway Troopers Ted Taylor, Nathan Massey, Ed Brill and Jim Baker of Wright county.

COL. FRED A. LAMB FATALLY INJURED

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Col. Fred A. Lamb, 63, one-time commander of the old Third Regiment of the Missouri National Guard, and former police commissioner of Kansas City, was injured fatally late Thursday in a motor accident on highway U. S. 50, east of here.

Col. Lamb, who suffered a broken back, died in an ambulence on the way to Lees Summit.

Mrs. E. E. Porterfield, Sr., riding in the automobile which overturned, suffered a broken collar bone. Others who suffered minor bruises were Mrs. Lamb, Miss Dorothy Dodd, and Mrs. H. C. McCullough.

TWO MORE DEATHS DUE SLEEPING SICKNESS

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—Two more deaths from encephalitis (sleeping sickness) were reported today to Health Commissioner Joseph F. Bredeck. There now have been 12 encephalitis deaths since June.

Action in the Battle of Shanghai

On the alert, Japanese machine gunners and snipers are pictured entrenched behind the ruin of a brick wall in Shanghai, prepared for attack by the Chinese. Parties such as these, spread through the native sections, exacted huge toll of life as they relentlessly pushed closer and closer to capture of the city.

SCEDULE BURIALS AT KANSAS CITY

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—Burials were scheduled today in Kansas City cemeteries for the first time since a grave diggers strike was called August 5.

One burial was that of Michael Ross, for many years a leader in Democratic politics here, who died Tuesday. Two men stood guard over his grave while services were being held at the church.

At two cemeteries, union men were back at work and pickets had been recalled subject to an arbitration hearing.

KING OF THE IVORIES DIES IN OBSCURITY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 3.—Harry Snodgrass, who became known as "King of the Ivories," for his piano playing on the radio while a Missouri prison inmate, died here in obscurity yesterday.

Released from the penitentiary at Jefferson City in 1925, Snodgrass made a direct appeal to radio fans for funds and received $3,587.35. He also obtained a vaudeville contract, but was a failure on the stage.

Snodgrass then came to his boyhood home here to play in night clubs. Finally he droped out of sight. When he became ill Monday, a son took him to the home of his former wife, where he died.

NO GENERAL ALARM OVER PARALYSIS

(By the Associated Press)

Infantile paralysis outbreaks this year, centering in the middlewest, have resulted in closing of many schools and other places where children congregate, but in general have shown no cause for alarm, it was indicated today in a nation-wide survey by the Associated Press.

The disease, nearly always most serious in the late summer and early fall, appeared to be most prevalent in Illinois, Wisconsin, Mississippi and Nebraska.

In most sections reporting increases over last year it was pointed out 1936 was a year unusually free of the disease, and the number of this year's cases were shown to be well below five year averages.

Chicago closed her public school indefinitely after reporting 109 cases in August as compared with a previous August high of 99 and a 1936 figure of 23, which was about average. Theatres barred children under 16, and playgrounds and wading pools were closed.

God Requires Social Justice, Leviticus 19:9-37, for Sunday, September 5.

Moses amplifies the ten commandments in Leviticus. Here may be found the principles and spirit that apply to our day.

Vs. 9, 10. "Thou shalt not wholly reap the corner of the field, neither shalt thou gather the gleaning of the harvest; thou shalt leave them for the poor." We ought not to be too exacting in claiming our rights, but leave a margin of brotherly consideration for those in need. Our social relations should be such as to make a practical program of "sharing the wealth."

V. 11. "Ye shall not steal; neither shall ye deal falsely, nor lie one to another." There ought to be great carefulness and honesty in all business. When Aristotle was asked what a man could gain by telling a falsehood, he replied, "Never to be credited when he tells the truth."

V. 12. "Ye shall not swear by my name falsely, and profane the name of God; I am Jehovah." It is astounding how profanity is now so common. This accounts for a lack of reverence for God which is fundamental in the religious life.

V. 13. "Thou shalt not oppress thy neighbor, nor rob him; the wages of a hired servant shall not abide with thee all night." Business promptness is essential to social justice.

V. 14. "Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind." Any man that takes advantage of another's weakness, difficulty or handicap is to be condemned.

V. 15. "Thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor." Social justice demands that we make no difference between the rich and the poor in all our dealings.

V. 16. "Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer." The scandal monger deserves punishment. There is no place for its gospel in a program of righteousness.

V. 17. "Thou shalt not hate thy brother in they heart; thou shalt surely rebuke thy neighbor, and not bear sin because of him." A Christian man one day made an unkind remark about some one, whereupon a friend said, "Did you say that because you loved him?" This remark changed the man's life.

V. 18.—"Thou shalt love their neighbor as thyself; I am Jehovah." When love for one's neighbor prevails then is it possible for one to offer suggestions to one overtaken in a fault.

V. 32. "Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honor the face of the old man, and thou shalt fear thy God; I am Jehovah." Disrespect and disobedience towards parents may be the first step towards disobedience to civil laws and may lead to criminal acts and prison bars. Too many children act as if their parents ought to be shot.

V. 33. "And if a stranger sojourn with you in your land, we shall do him no wrong." Since the church sends missionaries abroad, to be consistent, the church at home ought to treat foreigners here as our missionaries treat them abroad. In the Lord's prayer, the opening work "Our" calls for a recognition of all as our brothers.

Vs. 35, 36. "Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in measure of length, of weight, or of quality, just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin ye shall have. I am Jehovah your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt." The principle of scales extends to all our business transactions. Keeping our word and fulfilling all contracts according to terms. We should use just weights in our social judgments and in all our relations and thus preserve and promote fair dealings and just judgments in all our speech and conduct.

V. 37. "And ye shall observe all my statutes, and all mine ordinances, and do them. I am Jehovah." Man's attitude, man's willingness to obey God, is fundamental in the religious life.

DO YOU KNOW?

1. Where did Mary and Martha live?
2. To what country did Jacob go to find a wife?
3. In what epistle is Paul's list of the "whole armor of God?"
4. What words were engraved on the front of the high priest's mitre?
5. Locate the phrase, "Ye prisoners of hope?"
6. What is Paul's "Epistle of Joy?"

God Requires Social Justice. Leviticus 19:9-18, 32-37, for Sunday, September 5.

1. Why do people like to gossip?
2. How may one be an undetected thief?
3. What is the best way to relieve poverty?
4. What are some of the modern ways of oppressing and robbing others?
5. How can those not having fields of grain carry out the admonition of verses 9 and 19?

Clericus says, "A spirit of mutual brotherhood that goes beyond mutual rights and requirements is oil that lubricates the machinery of society and breeds good will among all classes and conditions of people."

Lesson Prayer: "We pray for such motives and desires that voluntarily and naturally we will do our part in the program of brotherhood of man."

Fifty-nine new Christian Science churches and societies have been organized during the last year. This announcement was made at the recent annual meeting of the mother church, the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston.

Dr. William P. Graham succeeds Bishop Charles W. Flint as chancellor of Syracuse University. He served on the faculty thirty-nine years—as professor of engineering, dean of the College of Applied Science and vice-chancellor.

Five and a half million pieces of Christian literature were distributed during the past year by the American Tract Society, and literature was furnished to sixty foreign countries in the language of the country in which the literature was distributed.

A eulogy of the late Dr. S. Parkes Cadman was read in more than 500 Protestant churches and Jewish synagogues in Brooklyn, N. Y., on the eve of the first anniversary of the death of the great churchman. The eulogy, which was prepared by the Brooklyn Church and Mission Federation, praised the noted preacher as "a comrade of any man who sought the way of God," and as one whose ministry embraced all creeds. Dr. Cadman, though originally a Methodist, was pastor of the Central Congregational Church for 35 years.

The first of August will [illegible] the motorized cathedral St. [illegible] the-Wayside, ready to undertake peripatetic ministry, with Bishop Henry Wise Hobson in charge. The over-all length of the cathedral is 38 feet; the width, 8 feet; and the height, 8 feet 6 inches. There will be seats for 18 persons at a service. Ordinarily, services will be held in parish churches visited by the bishop. The altar, bishop's chair, and seats can be taken into a larger building. The cabinets are to be filled with religious education material. The various departments of the diocese are preparing exhibits to be carried in the automobile. Religious education, missions, evangelism and publicity will be represented among these exhibits.

The Christian religion was founded by men of the laboring class. Jesus was a carpenter and Paul was a journeyman tent-maker. At least four of the twelve apostles were called from the task of catching fish. On the other hand, Jesus left the bench and became a teacher. Paul was undoubtedly a man of means and lived on his income most of his time. The first evengelist was called from a government position. The early church included both slaves and masters within its membership. There is no class spirit in the New Testament. The church of today cannot indulge in partisanship without deserting the practice of its founders who labored, not to serve any group, but to save all men and to bring all sorts and conditions of people under the rule of God and into a brotherhood where all distinctions were lost in love. The church fosters such a spirit of brotherhood.

Why not accept the invitation and come to church next Sunday?

How can an individual by his work contribute to the furthering of the kingdom of God?

In all lines of honest and serviceable work we are God's fellow-workmen. All business and professional life, all use of talents of brain and hand, all industry, is a stewardship of God's gifts. The farmer is administering God's estate of soil and potential food. The architect and builder is administering God's estate of timber and stone for shelter; and his estate of artistic and structural talent in the builder. The housewife is administering God's estate of the Home—an estate of incalculable value; and his most precious of all estates—that of his own little ones. Parents do not possess their children; they have them in trust. The prophet Jeremiah once asked of parents, "Where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?" Parents are answerable to God for that "beautiful flock." So with all our jobs and all our toil. When all workers realize this, and feel that they are sweeping rooms, running trains, selling groceries for the glory of God—then the Kingdom of God will come.

PRIDE

It was Burbank's pride in his gardening that made him a leader of the agricultural world. The pride of Edison has made the world a much easier and a much more happy world to live in, and it never made him think or say he considered himself above working a full day's work. It was the pride of George Washington to share the same hardships that kept his soldiers heartened during the awful winter at Valley Forge, and made the United States we have today possible.

If you are not proud of your work, you should quit it and go at some other work you are proud to do. You should do such good work you can not help but be proud of it. Work does not degrade one if it is well done, but no one can do the best work while thinking that he or she is ashamed of it. If you have not pride enough to boast of your ability, you should cultivate an appreciation of your work that will make you glad you are doing that work. Any one who can do excellent work has a right to be proud of it.—Selected.

The Better Way

The Value of Work

Remember, my son, you have t work. Whether you handle a pick or pen, a wheelbarrow, or a se of books, dig ditches or edit paper, ring an auction bell o write funny things—you mus work. If you look around, you wil see the men who are the mos able to live the rest of their day without work are men who wor the hardest. Don't fear of killin yourself by overwork. It is beyon your power to do that on the sun ny side of thirty. They die some times, but it's because they qui work at 6 p. m. It's the interva that kills, my son. The wor gives you a perfect and gratefu appreciation of a holiday. Ther are young men who do not work but the world is not proud o them; it simply speaks of then as old So-and-So's boy. Nobod likes them. The busier you ar the less harm you will be apt t get into, the sweeter will be you sleep, the brighter and happie your holidays, and the better satis fied the world will be with you.—Selected.

God Requires Social Justice — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Leviticus 19:1-18, 32-37.

God laid the foundation for social justice under the laws of Moses by demanding of the people holiness patterned after himself. "Ye shall be holy for I Jehovah your God am holy." Such was the divine injunction.

Poor relief was to be administered by all the people sharing with their needy neighbors: "Thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field . . . Thou shalt leave them for the poor and for the sojourner."

"Thou shalt not oppress thy neighbor, nor rob him," God said, "Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in measures, or of weight or of quantity." Justice in wages and treatment of workers was required by God.

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," said God through Moses. Jesus expanded this into the Golden Rule: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise." (GOLDEN TEXT—Luke 6:31.)

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 3—(AP)—Schoolboy Rowe and Daffy Dean, both nursing ailing arms, are barnstorming around Texas....They do three and four inning turns against each other in semi-pro and East Texas League games....Jimmy Braddock and Joe Gould have gone into business—the B. and G. Trucking Co. (No charge for the ad, boys).... Gould came down from the country yesterday with a pocket full of G notes and bought five trucks....Bill Terry appears on Giant letterheads as "general manager."

The West Side Casino down at Long Branch is tossing a testimonial dinner for Tommy Farr Tuesday night....Ernie Dusek ,the burper, is credited with having the most powerful neck muscles of any grappler since the days of old Farmer Burns. ....The farmer used to balance an iron rod on his adam's apple while lying on the floor and invite his admirers to stand on each end of the bar.

When Mike Jacobs starts his "carnival of champions" September 23, each working newspaperman will be handed a box of food and a container of beer as he enters the stadium. ....Reason, with four title bouts of 15 rounds each, plus a couple of prelims, the scribes and fans will be on the job from 7:30 until well after midnight if all bouts go the limit....It's going to be pretty tough dictating a blow-by-blow account with your mouth full of ham on rye.

Texas fans say those who think Duke and Pitt are going to play the outstanding game of the season had better not bet on it until after Ohio State and Texas Christian collide. ....Sam Snead, the golf crack, caddied for Helen Hicks when she played in her first national tournament down in West Virginia some years back....The other day Sammy gave Helen a few lessons on how to improve her stance....Charlie Grimm still insists his club will bring home the bunting.

Joe Dimaggio is finding the going tough in the western badlands this trip....So far his average is around .244....On the May trip he hit for .270; in June at a .377 clip while on the last trip he exploded to the tune of .450....John Henry Lewis may go to Los Angeles to fight Alberto Lovell under the Joe Levy banner. ....One New York paper hears the agreement between the three big league clubs here banning broadcasting of games soon may be dissolved....Jimmy Braddock is guest star at Barney Ross' Ferndale training camp.

TRYOUT MAY PRESENT BILL FOR GATE ADMISSION

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Mervyn Connors, formerly of Dallas in the Texas league and now being given a trial with the White Sox, is contemplating presenting the Chicago club with a bill for $1.10.

Connors, a third baseman, reported as the Sox were playing Boston, and after vainly trying to convince gatemen he was a new employe, gave up and bought a ticket to the park.

GIANTS SEEM TO BE GETTING BREAKS

By The Associated Press.

Social Note: Lady Luck is that way about Bill Terry again.

The romance that waxed warm just about this time last season, and then cooled off for much of the early part of the current campaign, is blooming again.

Everything is breaking right for the Colonel from Memphis and his New York Giants. His pitchers have started to click again, his attack is timely if not murderous, and his nearest rivals for the National league pennant are falling apart with all the consistency of a layer cake hit with a sledge hammer.

And now, as though that weren't enough, the weakest weapon in his offense, young Johnny McCarthy, is beginning to find the range, and his perennial feudists, the Flatbush Frolics from Brooklyn, are doing their level best to kick the Giants upstairs.

The Terry Terriers were a full game in front in the National league pennant parade today. Their 5-4 win over the Cardinals yesterday, coupled with the Dodgers' 4-3 decision over the second-place Cubs, left the championship chase in this form.

CARDINALS BUY PITCHER KRIST

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—The St. Louis Cardinals announced today purchase of Howard Krist, 21-year-old right handed pitcher, from the Rochester Red Wings for an unnamed amount of cash and the outright release to Rochester of Herbert Moore, young southpaw, now with the Red Wings, on whom the Cards held an option.

Krist, regarded as one of the most promising young hurlers in the International league, has won 13 and lost 13 games this season. He has worked in 45 contests this year.

MAKO MAY GO OFF DOUBLES TEAM

By The Associated Press.

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 3.—There's a strong campaign afoot already to get husky Gene Mako off the American Davis Cup doubles team and break in a new partner for Don Budge before Germany comes hunting for the cup next summer.

The tennis fathers have not been content with Mako's play for some time. They felt he was the weak link of the American team that went questing for the big trophy this summer. Gene lulled their suspicions for a time with brilliant exhibitions both in the interzone final against Germany and in the challenge round victory over England at Wimbledon, but the straight-set trouncing administered to him and Budge by the great German pair, Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel, in the national doubles championships last Monday was the wolves in full cry again. There was more talk about it here yesterday during the opening round of the singles championships.

A partial poll of those with feelings in the matter favored the veteran John Van Ryn to team up with Budge next time. They still regard him as the finest doubles player there is, barring George Lott, now a professional. They feel that he and Budge would be able to keep the Davis Cup from Germany or any other country. But if Van Ryn were not available they would be willing to settle for Frankie Parker, Bryan Grant, Wayne Sabin, or, in fact, almost any player with doubles talent.

GREATEST ATHLETIC PROWESS 25 TO 29

By The Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 3.—The age of greatest athletic prowess is 25 to 29, except in golf and bowling, when it 30 to 34.

This was the finding from a study of 11 leading sports reported to the American Psychological Association here today by Professor Harvey C. Lehman, of Ohio University, at Athens, Ohio.

PITCHES A NO-HIT GAME FOR FLORIDA CLUB BUT IS LOSER

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 3.—Jim McMullen, big Deland right-hander, qualified for Florida State league's "hard luck club" last night when he pitched a no-hit game, but lost to Orlando Gulls, 3-0.

For seven innings Jim pitched his high, hard one past the Gulls in one of the season's finest pitching duels, with young Bob Overstreet.

In the eighth, an error and a walk put two men on with one away. A hard hit ball eluded the shortstop, rolled into the outfield, and one man scored.

The throw to third was wild for error number three and another run scored. A long fly enabled the third man to score from third before the side was retired.

MODERATE DECLINE TO WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(AP) — After fluctuating nervously at a small advance, wheat prices dipped below the previous close today when buying power contracted.

The market was narrow and trading was quiet and confined mostly to small lots. Crop news from the southern hemisphere was interpreted as bearish. A private estimate placed Australia's probable production at around 175,000,000 bushels compared with 134,000,000 last season. Another report indicated the wheat acreage now standing in Argentina is considered in favorable condition.

Wheat closed ¼ to ¾ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, September $1.05⅛ to $1.05¼. December $1.07⅛ to $1.07¼, and corn was ¼ cent down to ⅝ cent up, September 96c to 96¼c; December 62⅞c to 63c. Oats were ⅜ cent off to ⅛ cent up.

FINANCIAL NEWS

SOME RECOVERIES TO STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Stocks pulled themselves up hand-over-hand in today's market and at the best registered recoveries of 1 to more than 3 points.

Dealings were exceptionally slow on the come-back.

There was no special stimulation in the news and brokers suggested day-to-day traders may have climbed aboard early for quick-turn profits on the theory the list had been over-sold and was due for at least a brief rally.

Some short covering was reported by those who had wished to extend the Labor Day holiday without worrying over what may happen in the interim that would affect stocks. Others stuck to the side-lines because of the cloudiness of Far Eastern and European affairs.

Transfers were in the neighborhood of 700,000 shares.

FOR today's woman . . . busy, modern, throwing off ancient shackles . . . B-ettes were created. Here is a method that ends the discomfort, the inconvenience and the embarrassment that heretofore has been an unavoidable part of this feminine problem. With B-ettes there is no consciousness of wearing a sanitary protection at all! They are completely invisible in use . . . deodorant . . . and, though they safely and efficiently perform the purpose of ordinary napkins, B-ettes are so tiny that a day's supply can be carried unobtrusively in a handbag. Never before have women known such comfort . . . such convenience . . . such daintiness . . . in a sanitary protection.

PRAISE IS GIVEN AMERICAN PRESS

By The Associated Press.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. Sept. 3. The American Press was described as "the most thorough, competent and honest that this country has ever known" by Wilbur Forrest, executive assistant to the New York Herald-Tribune.

Forrest made his assertion in an address prepared for delivery at a round table discussion on the press at the Institute of Human Relations.

His talk followed one by Oswald Garrison Villard, contributing editor to The Nation, before the second general institute session on the press.

Villard attacked those publishers to whom freedom of the press "meant that men might be attacked in their columns without the freedom to reply to present the truth when truth had been falsified."

REPORT CHINESE PLANES HAD BOMBED A JAPANESE PORT

JAPANESE DROP BOMBS DURING A RAID AT SUNSET

MAJOR FIGHTING NORTH OF SHANGHAI

Nipponese Attempting An Enveloping Move To The West

By The Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—(Friday)—An unconfirmed report early today said Chinese military airplanes had flown to Japan and bombed Kagoshima, southernmost port of importance in Japan proper.

Kagoshima is in the south of Kyushu island, on the west coast, about 600 miles from Nanking, the Chinese capital. It has about 137,000 population.

While the report went unconfirmed for the time being, it is a fact that the Chinese have threatened repeatedly to fly across the Yellow sea and carry the war into Japan proper.

By JAMES A. MILLS

SHANGHAI, Sept. 2—Japanese air squadrons dumped bombs on the northern borders of the international settlement in a sunset air raid today, just missing the sandbagged sectors defended by American marines.

The bombs played havoc with life and property but, apparently achieved no military objective.

Sharpnel fell about United States marine posts. The American lines were directly in the range of fire. The steel-helmeted marines were in imminent danger of serious casualties in case Japanese airbombers or naval gunners overshot their marks, the Chinese government mint and other administrative buildings.

A dozen miles to the north the major fighting surged on, with Japanese asserting their troops were approaching the walls of Paoshan and Chinese declaring their lines were holding firm. The Japanese admitted their earlier claim to the capture of Paoshan was a mistake.

Liuho, in this area, was pounded fiercely by great Japanese naval shells and air bombs, but the Chinese troops stayed. About historic Woosung, too, where some sections still are held by the Chinese, there was furious Japanese bombardment from air and sea.

American naval observers were amazed at the prodigal use of the expensive Japanese shells and bombs, most of which were falling in wastelands undefended by the Chinese.

Burrow Into Earth

Where the Chinese troops did come in range, they burrowed into the earth like groundhogs, coming out only when the bombardment waned.

In the northern provinces the Japanese army brought the entire length of the Peiping-Kalgan railroad under its domination, and dispatches from Kalgan said a Japanese-sponsored "peace maintenance committee" had been set up, similar to those already established in Peiping and Tientsin.

These were seen generally as forerunners to Japanese-controlled "autonomous anti-communist governments" in the north.

Shortly before the sunset air raid, Chinese naval authorities warned the British army today to evacuate its outposts on the western boundary of the international settlement as they were preparing to bomb the Chinese communication lines in the adjacent Jessfield Park district. The British did not reply.

In a desperate effort to bolster her blocked offensive on the Yangtze front 17 miles north of Shanghai, Japan was attempting to land approximately 42,000 fresh troops from the homeland on the Liuho and Woosung shores.

Crack Chinese divisions were holding up the Japanese advance all along the curving 20-mile battlefront from the historic Woosung forts, through Paoshan to Lotien. There was fierce fighting in every sector.

American naval observers reported Japanese transports off Liuho and 11 others off Woosung, endeavoring to discharge troops, tanks and heavy artillery.

American naval officers estimated this would bring Japan's forces in the Shanghai-Woosung-Liuho sector to more than 75,000 men, opposed to Chinese strength of some 200,000.

An Enveloping Move

The Japanese were attempting a sweeping enveloping movement to the west aimed at cutting off the Chinese and bottling them up in the Peninsula formed by the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers. The Chinese strategy was to fall back slowly, enticing the Japanese inland where they would be without the protection of the heavy guns of their warships.

The Japanese superiority in artillery and warplanes gave Japan's forces a tremendous advantage but the vastly greater Chinese numerical strength more than compensated for the Japanese mechanized equipment.

The Japanese spokesman, while admitting that the strategic areas of Paoshan and Lion forest forts were still in the hands of the Chinese, insisted that the all important junction of the two Japanese columns operating in the eastern and western sectors of the front had been effected. This the Chinese denied.

Woosung village, where the Whangpoo river meets the Yangtze, was a scene of desolation similar to that of the Sino-Japanese war of 1932 when the Japanese used it as a base from which to strike the Chinese rear and eventually drive them out of their positions in Shanghai proper.

The famous German-supported Tungchi university, which was completely wrecked in 1932 and then rebuilt, stood out in the dawn light like a great broken monument to the fury of war. So heavy was the shell fire that even the German-built bomb proof dugouts at the university had to be evacuated.

J. A. CALVERT TO BE GUARD AT PRISON

John Arnold Calvert, Green Ridge, received official notification Thursday that he has been appointed a guard at the state penitentiary at Jefferson City, to report for duty not later than Saturday, September 4.

The letter stated that the appointment was by direction of Governor Lloyd C. Stark, after he, Calvert, had been endorsed by the Pettis County Central Committee, been examined by the examining board of penal institutions, and found eligible.

Mr. Calvert is now constable of Green Ridge township, to which office he was elected, and he is also a deputy sheriff, holding a commission under Sheriff W. L. Marlin.

LEARNS MOTHER DEAD ON ARRIVAL

Mrs. Al Rowland of Kansas City, 17 year old daughter of Mrs. Harriet Winston, 34, who was killed in an automobile accident near Sedalia Sunday night, telephoned to Windsor from Versailles early Wednesevening and asked to talk to her mother. With her husband she left Kansas City last Sunday for a motor trip and vacation in Colorado and was returning home by way of Windsor planning to spend the remainder of the week there.

Relatives, dreading to break the news to her of her mother's death, told her there had been an automobile accident and her mother was not able to talk to her.

It was not until after she arrived in Windsor a short time later that she was told her mother was dead.

Funeral services for Mrs. Winston were held at the Christian church in Windsor Thursday morning, conducted by the Rev. M. L. Riley.

A second service was held at Mill Grove near Trenton, that afternoon. Mrs. Winston's mother, Mrs. Clod Felder, of Spickard, Mo., who has been seriously ill, was going to make an attempt to attend the services at Mill Grove.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES AT AGE OF 94

Labron Roberts, ninety-four years old veteran of the Civil War, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. L. Bohon, Route 4, Sedalia, at four o'clock Thursday afternoon.

He served in the Civil War in Company H of the Sixth Regiment of Missouri Militia. He was honorably discharged October 31, 1863.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Bohon and Mrs. Mollie Birdsley, both of Sedalia.

Mr. Roberts was born in Jackson County, Tennessee, in 1843 and moved to Pettis County in 1855. Since that time he has made his home here.

In 1863 he was united in marriage to Miss Euphia Young. Three of the five children of this marriage preceeded him in death.

He became a member of the Flat Creek Baptist church in 1878.

The body is at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

SIXTY MILLION DOLLAR SUGAR TAX BILL EFFECTIVE

President In Signing It Assails Some of Its Provisions

NO MENTION OF AN EXTRA SESSION

Approves Senate Measure Authorizing Monopoly on Helium

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—A $60,000,000 sugar tax—the first processing levy on a farm product since the supreme court nullified the AAA taxes—became effective today as part of the new sugar-quota legislation.

President Roosevelt signed the much-debated sugar bill last night at Hyde Park and at the same time sharply assailed some of its provisions.

He said it legalized a "virtual monopoly" by a small group of seaboard refiners and that he had signed it only on assurance from congressional leaders that beet and cane growers were ending their "unholy alliance" with the seaboard refiners.

The President turned toward Long Island Sound for a fishing vacation today after virtually clearing his desk for all remaining bills enacted by congress at its last session.

He announced he had approved in addition to the sugar stabilization bill, the $526,000,000 Wagner-Steagall low costing housing bill and the senate measure authorizing a government helium monopoly.

The President only a few hours of the expiration of the time allowed for him to act, made no mention of an extra session of congress.

In preparing to embark at Poughkeepsie late today on the yacht Potomac for four or five days of fishing in eastern New York waters, the chief executive arranged to keep constantly advised on far eastern developments by radio.

The sugar bill imposes a half-cent a pound processing tax on sugar, effective at once. Officials said it would raise from $60,000,000 to $70,000,000 annually. About $50,000,000 of this will go to sugar beet and cane growers in benefit payments for crop control.

Objects To Limitations

The benefit payments are retroactive, applying to sugar beets and cane harvested after July 1, but the agriculture department stressed no payments can be made until congress makes a direct appropriation for the purpose. A $50,000,000 appropriation for payments was stricken from the third deficiency bill which carried funds sufficient only for the administration of the new law.

One of the chief objections President Roosevelt made to the measure was its limitations on shipments of refined sugar to continental United States from Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

These he described as "discriminatory." While the bill was under consideration in congress he had intimated he might veto it if these provisions were included.

His denunciation of the "sugar monopoly" said its lobby was costing American housewives millions of dollars a year. His gentleman's agreement with congressional leaders, he said, provided that future legislation will protect the consumer.

President Roosevelt today reiterated a belief that "it is sound" to include satutes of limitations in all revenue acts to make it impossible for the government after a fixed period, to collect additional taxes or the taxpayers to obtain tax refund.

He made the statement in vetoing a bill to pay $1,000 to L. J. Powers for redemption of two documentary revenue stamps which Powers said he received from the Couch cotton mills of Atlanta in compensation as an officer of that company.

He said Powers' claim for redemption of the stamps presented in July, 1925, was rejected by the internal revenue bureau six months later because the claimant had not "Satisfactorily traced the history," of the stamps as required by law and had not filed his claim within the prescribed four-year period after purchase.

After this rejection, the President said, Powers failed to pursue the statutory remedy for relief of filing suit within two years from the time of rejection.

"I must again express my belief," he said in the veto, "that the field of special legislation should not be opened to relieve special classes of taxpayers from the consequences of their failure to protect their claims for the refund of taxes within the period fixed by law."

Restriction on Use

Under the helium bill, no helium purchased abroad could be used for military purposes and all foreign sales would have to be approved first by six government agencies, including the war and navy departments.

The loan-grant housing act, carrying out one of the President's campaign promises, creates a United States housing authority in the department of the interior with an initial capital of $1,000,000 already appropriated.

It also authorizes up to $500,000,000 in government-guaranteed bonds to raise funds for loans and an additional appropriation of $25,000,000 for grants. Funds for grants, proponents of the act say, will not be needed until actual construction is well under way.

The housing authority may lend to public housing agencies to up to 99 per cent of the cost of the projects. The local communities would put up the other 10 per cent. Loans may run for a maximum of 60 years.

Under an optional section, the authority may make outright contributions of 25 per cent of the project cost, with the President having the right to allot out of relief funds an additional 15 per cent to pay for labor costs.

To obtain a subsidy a local group must agree to demolish a slum unit for every new low-rent unit built.

Cost of projects will be limited to $1,000 per room or $4,000 per family unit, except in cities of more than 500,000 population where the maximums would be $1,250 and $5,000 respectively.

SENATORS MAKE NO COMMENT ON POLITICAL REPORT

Speculation on Possibility of Replacing Milligan as District Attorney

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—Senator Harry S. Truman declined to comment today on a published report that he, in behalf of the Kansas City Democratic organization, would endeavor to replace Maurice Milligan, district attorney who is handling vote fraud prosecutions here, when Milligan's commission expires next February.

"I have nothing at all to say about the report," Senator Truman said.

Milligan was appointed nearly four years ago on the recommendation of Bennett Champ Clark of St. Louis, senior senator from Missouri, who then was the state's only Democratic senator.

The Kansas City Times said there was some speculation that Fred A. Canfil, director of Jackson county buildings and a friend of Senator Truman, would be in line to replace Henry Dillingham of Platte City, as United States marshal for the western Missouri district.

Nee Probably Remain.

Belief prevails, the newspaper said, that Dan Nee of Springfield will remain as internal revenue collector for western Missouri. Nee is a friend of both Missouri senators.

"In the case of Milligan," the newspaper said, "it is a different story. Regardless of the outcome, it is a certainty that a move will be made to name a new United States district attorney here.

No Comment From Clark.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Bennett Champ Clark's secretary said today the state's senior United States senator knew nothing of a published report that an effort would be made to replace United States district attorney Maurice Milligan of Kansas City.

GRAVE DIGGERS WORK UNDER GUARD

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—Grave diggers began work today under protection of armed guards in two cemeteries where a strike has prevented burials since Aug. 5.

"We're going right ahead until all accumulated bodies have been buried," said J. F. Eubank, operator of the two cemeteries, Forest Hill and Cavalry.

"No conferences have been scheduled and I don't care to meet with Mr. England (Roy England, president of the General Laborers' Union). I'm going to run this cemetery myself. All our old men are being invited back."

Men within his grounds were armed, Eubank said.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Mt. Washington cemetery officers today offered striking grave diggers a 12½ per cent increase in wages and issued a plea for the men to return to work.

One hundred and fifty bodies—133 in Kansas City, Mo., and 17 in Kansas City, Kas.—have been laid in vaults since the strike was called Aug. 5 in 11 cemeteries. Mt. Washington and St. Mary's cemeteries have posted notice they cannot accept more bodies since their vaults are filled.

TELLS KIWANIANS OF MEXICO TRIP

Outstanding points of interest on a three week's vacation trip of 5,400 miles to Mexico were described in a lucid talk by William R. Courtney before Sedalia Kiwanians meeting in Bothwell Hotel at noon Thursday.

Interesting phases of the trip included attendance at a bull fight, deep sea fishing in the Gulf, visits to ancient Aztec pyramids where human sacrificial ceremonies were performed before the country was conquered by Cortez, and structures ornate in gold leaf that today remain a marvel to tourists.

The speaker was introduced by W. W. Storey, program chairman.

The club went on record to participate in the 150th anniversary celebration of the United States Constitution.

Sam Milton was again the recipient of the attendance prize, a fountain pen from L. B. Pratt, who also presented the members with a box of cigars preliminary to his departure on a vacation trip to Arkansas. Kiwanians expressed gratification that this gesture will establish a precedent for all vacationists to observe in the future.

THREE BANDITS TAKE $8 FROM FARMER'S WIFE

Robbery Occurs At Home of Mrs. Ernie Zeigal on Highway 52

Mrs. Ernie Zeigal who lives on a farm on highway 52, about five miles west of highway 65, just this side of the Benton county line, reported to Sedalia officers Tuesday afternoon that she had been held up and robbed of $8 by a man and woman who came to her home about 2 o'clock that afternoon. A third man, she said, remained in the car.

The man asked if the men folks were away. Mrs. Zeigal told them her husband was not at home, and the woman held a gun on Mrs. Zeigal demanding money. She said she knew there was money there and they wanted that, or they would take the child. Mrs. Zeigal told the officers her two daughters are grown and she told them she had no child. The man, too, she said had a gun.

"She thought she married a black snake, but she married a rattlesnake," the woman said, according to Mrs. Zeigal who told the officers she had no idea what they meant.

According to Mrs. Zeigal she gave them $8 in cash which she had hidden under a matteress and they departed, but not before one of them made the remark, "Her father has lots of money and we are going to get it."

The man, Mrs. Zeigal described to the officers as dark, about 35 years old, with bulging eyes. The woman, she said, was a slender blonde medium build, wearing khaki trousers, a white shirt and orange tie.

The officers are making an investigation of the case. They expressed the opinion the trio may have been looking for someone else and mistook the Zeigal house for another where there might be a child.

MANAGER HERE FOR EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

The district office of the National Reemployment Service, which was opened in Sedalia Wednesday, is located on the second floor of the new postoffice building, and has merged with it the local office of the service which has been functioning here for some time.

Wright G. Lloyd, district manager, with fourteen counties under his jurisdiction, comes to Sedalia from Marshall. His assistant district manager will be Paul Griffith of West Plains, who will be in Sedalia the first of next week.

Other members of the office force are F. W. Tate and C. M. Woodstock, who have been here for several months, Miss Virginia Howard, formerly of Marshall, stenographer, and Miss Mary Helen Montgomery, Marshall, district statistican, who is convalescing from an operation and will join the force as soon as she is able. There will be another woman for interviewers, who has not yet arrived.

This department has been transferred from the state labor department to the unemployment compensation division, of which Andrew Murphy, Jefferson City, is commission chairman.

The counties included in this district are: Pettis, Johnson, Saline, Howard, Charlton, Lafayette, Ray, Carroll, Bates, Henry, St. Clair, Hickory, Benton and Cooper.

The employment service endeavors to bring the jobless men and the manless jobs together. Its purpose is to conduct a modern, efficient system of public employment offices for the mutual benefit of employers and those seeking work.

TYPHOON DEATH TOLL BELIEVED TO BE OVER 500

FEAR THOUSANDS LOST THEIR LIVES

Large and Small Ships Piled Up Against The Sea Wall

HONGKONG, Sept. 2. — Fire, caused by a disastrous typhoon, raged through Hongkong today after a 125-miles-an-hour wind had taken hundreds of lives ashore and at sea.

The death toll, steadily rising, was believed to have passed 500. Officials feared it would mount into thousands.

A wide area of this British Crown colony was devastated and waist deep in water.

Large and small ships were piled up on the sea wall and strewn in the submerged waterfront streets.

Shipping suffered particularly heavily in the gale, one of the worst in Hongkong's history, because the harbor is thronged with refugee-laden ships from the Shanghai war zone and steamers that have taken haven from the Japanese coastal blockade.

The 4,552-ton Dutch Liner Van Heutsz was a total loss. Two of the largest ships in the harbor, the 18,675-ton Lloyd Trientino liner Conte Verde and the 16,975-ton Japanese liner Asama Maru, were swept ashore.

Ships Reported Sunk

Two British ships, the Mausang and Boong Court, and the Chinese Queton were reported sunk.

The British steamers Lyeemoon, Kalgan and Kwangchow, the Norwegian freighter Produce and the Chinese Shenglee were pounded ashore.

British police and revenue officers, heroically forming a human life line strung together with ropes, rescued the crews of many smaller stranded ships and hundreds of Chinese refugees.

The downtown area of Hongkong was demolished as completely as if it had been bombed. Streets were littered with the debris of shattered windows, collapsed walls, blown-down signs and the wrecks of automobiles.

Fifteen bodies were recovered from the fire caused by the gale. It was not known how many others were trapped in the flames and ruins of caved-in buildings.

Along the coast at Macao serious damage was reported, particularly to the picturesque colony of boat dwellers.

A survey disclosed 18 ships had been driven ashore both inside and outside Hongkong harbor, in addition to those sunk. The largest was the 18,765-ton Italian liner Conte Verde. Most of them, it was thought, could be refloated.

The steamer Anlee, tossed by the waves, collided with the British warships Suffolk, Duchess and Diamond before being crashed on the Praya roadway.

REPORT ADMISSION TO BANK ROBBERY

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—Thomas J. Higgins, chief of detectives, said today Carl N. Arthur had admitted participation in the $4,000 holdup of the University Bank here June 30.

Higgins said Arthur told him he wanted to be turned over to the government to plead guilty.

"I sure wish I had stayed at my bartending job," Higgins quoted Arthur as saying.

COUNTY TEACHERS ELECT PRESIDENT

Chester Crain was elected president of the Pettis County rural teachers at the plan meeting held in the courthouse Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. B. Burke was chosen vice-president. Miss Gladys Ferguson, secretary-treasurer.

C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools, presided over the session. Those on the program were: Mrs. Marjorie Hoy Napton; Miss Mary Sue Hopkins, Warrensburg; Miss Lelia Ledbetter, Clayton; Dean E. Douglass, Jefferson City; Dr. L. S. Geiger, Sedalia; H. W. Becker, Kirkwood; A. F. Elsea, Jefferson City, M. Wray Witten, county superintendent of schools of Morgan county.

STATE WPA ROLLS TO UNDER 50,000

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 2.—The state WPA rolls will be reduced to 49,000 jobs by September 15 or less than half of its 102,500 'peak" of last November, Administrator Matthew S. Murray announced today.

Murray attributed the falling off in workers in the last two months principally to the "natural absorbing" of men and women in private industry.

On July 1, the WPA rolls listed approximately 65,000 workers in Missouri, as compared with 50,200 this week.

WOULD RECORD SENATE AGAINST A THIRD TERM

Senator Hall To Offer Resolution Approved In 1928 Session

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Senator Holt (D W.Va.) said today he will seek to record the senate against a third term for President Roosevelt.

A frequent administration critic, Holt said he would offer the same resolution opposing a third term which the senate approved in 1928 and the house adopted in 1875.

He noted that nearly a score of Democrats now in the senate voted nine years ago, when Calvin Coolidge was president, that a third term would be "unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

While Holt took this method of recognizing talk of a third term for the President, there were expressions of doubt from other Democrats that Mr. Roosevelt would seek or accept renomination in 1940.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) said he "took no stock whatever in the talk of a third term."

Before he left the capitol after the adjournment of congress, Senator George (D-Ga.) said he was "confident" that the President "at the proper time" would declare his position and step aside for another.

Unwilling to be quoted directly in speculation in advance of the next campaign, other Democrats said privately they doubted a third term was likely.

Previous Resolution

Holt's resolution would be the second designed to put congress on record against a third term. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) offered one shortly before adjournment.

Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis), New Deal champion, introduced the resolution which Democratic and Republican votes put through the senate 56 to 26 in 1928. It was virtually identical in wording with a resolution which the house approved 234 to 18 in 1875, when Grant was nearing the end of his second term in the White House.

The senate, after several days of heated debate, reached a vote Feb. 10, 1928, a few months after President Coolidge's cryptic "I do not choose to run" pronouncement.

Among Democrats in the senate recorded for it were:

Others included Senators Borah, Capper, Frazier, Norris, and Nye, Republicans LaFollette, Progressive; Shipstead, Farmer-Labor; the late Majority Leader Robinson (D-Ark) and former Senator Black (D-Ala) new supreme court justice.

LaFollette opened the debate by recalling presidential pronouncements against third terms beginning with Washington and Jefferson.

"Once the precedent has been broken that no one should hold the office for more than eight years," he warned, "it will be difficult, if not impossible, to prevent re-election for 12, 16 and perhaps for 20 years."

LaFollette is one of the senators closest to Roosevelt. There has been speculation that he might receive administration support for the presidency in 1940.

SEDALIA THEATRE TO OPEN SEPT. 18

The Fox Sedalia theatre, Third street and Massachusetts avenue, will again open its doors to the public, as a first run theatre, Saturday, September 18.

This theatre has in the past presented many varied policies, road attractions, vaudeville and pictures, and now, for the first time, will be made into one of the leading first run theatres of this territory. Only the choice of the major producers pictures will be shown for a full week run at popular prices, Allan Karf, manager states.

He says that the management will make every effort to secure every really big picture immediately upon its release date so that they will be run day and date with every large city in the country.

Workmen are now preparing the theatre for its opening and Manager Karf states that the newest type of sound equipment is being installed.

NEW AGENCY PUT AT THE HELM OF 'REHABILITATION'

To Concentrate on Loans For Tenants Acquiring Farms

NO WORD HERE OF CHANGE IN POLICY

Resettlement Project at Hughesville Is Under The New Set-up

James A. Muster, department manager of the Rural Resettlement Administration, in charge of the project in the Hughesville community, was out of town Thursday. At his office it was stated they had received no word of any change in policy with reference to the construction going on near Hughesville, and members of the office force had no information other than that in the newspaper. It is possible, they stated, that Mr. Muster, upon his return may have official information as to future plans.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—A new federal agency with different aims—the Farm Security Administration—replaced today the Resettlement Administration, stormy New Deal unit founded by Rexford G. Tugwell.

The new agency will direct the longtime and odmittedly difficult job of trying to convert some 3,000,000 tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers into owner-operators.

Secretary Wallace officially ended the Resettlement Administration's life yesterday and transferred to the new agency the task of continuing such of its projects as will be completed.

Wallace never liked the word "resettlement" for describing the federal job of rural relief. He christened the new agency "security" and warned appointees publicly they must live up to its name.

The cabinet member said building of model suburban and rural communities—pet projects when Tugwell was at the helm—will have no place in the revamped program.

Instead the new agency will concentrate on loans to deserving tenants to help them acquire farms and on relief for needy farmers under the broad term of "rehabilitation."

"I think the new name is a much better one," Wallace said. "The old one suggested we were going to pick farmers up one place and set them down in another. What we are trying to do is make them secure on their land."

Retirement of Poor Lands

Wallace said congress had ordered three activities under the tenancy program: Loans to help tenants become owners; loans to enable farmers to subsist, improve and get ahead; and development of land use program that will include retirement of poor crop lands.

All these things and many others, including the model suburban communities for low income families, government motion pictures that dramatized social and agricultural problems, were attempted and accomplished, at least in part, by Tugwell.

Wallace ordered the new agency to confine its efforts to the loan activities. He picked Dr. W. W. Alexander, former chief lieutenant under Tugwell and his successor as resettlement administrator, to direct the new agency.

Announcement of abandonment of the RA came soon after another to the effect Greenbelt, Md., planned by the RA as the "perfect community," would become a corporative town.

The government has arranged to turn the virtually complete but untenanted town over to the Consumers Distribution Corporation, cooperative established by a $1,000,000 gift from Edward A. Lilene, wealthy Boston merchant.

Brainchild of Tugwell, Greenbelt was to have cost $6,950,000. It was planned to provide homes for families with incomes of from $1,200 to $2,000 a year.

Tugwell proposed an arrangement whereby each family would have a patch of ground on which food could be grown.

Under the cooperative operation the renters will own the stores they patronize—everything from beauty parlors to garages—and they will divide up any profits. Each customer-owner will share in the profits according to how much he has spent in "his" stores.

PROGRESS IN SAFETY

During the 1937 legislative sessions, a number of states made material contributions to the vital cause of traffic safety.

Nine states adopted the standard drivers' license measure—considered by safety authorities to be an absolutely essential step in preventing accidents. Three other states adopted license measures which, though non-standard, are believed worthwhile. Two states revised and modernized their entire motor vehicle codes. A number of states worked toward achieving uniform traffic legislation. In several states traffic patrols were extended and reorganized, and improved systems of training officers established.

As the managing director of the National Safety Council points out, "The country must not make the grave mistake of expecting too much of these laws in too short a time. The license law passed today cannot save lives tomorrow. No one would expect an army of green recruits to rout a firmly entrenched enemy after the first drill period. Give it time. The long view must always prevail."

However, over a period of months and years, progress in safety legislation will save thousands of lives and millions of dollars worth of property.

The measure of success that has been achieved in perfecting traffic legislation must not be allowed to blind us to the many steps that must yet be taken if everything in the power of the law to curb accidents is to be done. Incredible as it seems, in three states only are chauffeurs required to have a motor vehicle operator's license—and in two states no license for anyone is required! We still have a long way to go before the highways are made safe—only public opinion can bring corrective action.

TWO PROPHECIES

The word "democracy" hasn't been used in connection with Germany for a long time. But last Saturday a Mr. Homeyer, addressing a gathering of German-Americans in St. Louis, said this about the future of Germany:

"Conditions had become such that apparently only dictatorship could restore soundness to the German nation. But it is only a matter of time until the German people will again enjoy democracy in the fullest sense of the word."

Try as we will, we can't find any evidence of progress toward democracy under Hitler. The concrete evidence all seems to point the other way. But Mr. Homeyer spoke with indubitable confidence. So perhaps, in the absence of concrete evidence, he has gone back to reading philosophy. If he has, he may have stumbled on the equally confident prophecy which was made recently by the Italian philosopher, Benedetto Croce:

"Supposing we assume that the worst will happen. The worst that can be envisaged is that the struggle which is today tearing the world asunder will culminate in the complete rout of liberty and the triumph of authoritarianism, even in the countries which have, up to this time, remained immune. Well, then, freedom will succumb, to be sure, but with the certainty that the process of acquiring it will have to begin all over again. . . "

Well, then. There is the backing of a philosopher for Mr. Homeyer's venture into prophecy. The only trouble is that both Croce and Mr. Homeyer have failed to tell us how liberty and democracy will emerge from the dictatorships, and when. Both of these points are fairly important.

STRONG ARM FOR SPAIN

One would have more sympathy with the "Loyalists" in Spain were they loyal to one another. They are anarchists as well as communists; they are two or three kinds of communists, and there are a variety of parties besides. If they should gain the victory over the "nationalists" or insurgents it would not insure orderly government for Spain. Civil commotion would continue. Nor is one sure that a Fascist government would reduce the country to sanity and peace, but there is some hope in a strong-armed government for such folk as the Spainards. Wherever in Europe is what they call "democracy" is also throat-cutting; the "terrorism" in Russia proceeds as if never a czar had been shot. Between the methods of a Hitler and a Stalin no essential difference is apparent, except that dissidents are shot in the proportion of ten in Russia to one in Hitler's reich. Were Stalin a good democrat who placed his faith in the people rather than in police and machine guns, Russia would be a Spain on magnified scale. In a victory of Franco would be no danger to Spain. It might be dangerous to the peace of Europe. If the people of Europe could rule one would say that they should rule, but their efforts too often end in misrule—except in Great Britain, the Scandinavian countries and some other small nations.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION—

The easiest and surest way to enjoy the distinction of living to a ripe old age is to properly care for that God-given mechanism—your body. There are no spare parts for sale at bargain counters. When one of your vital organs fails prematurely, through neglect or hard use, you're finished. With the blessings of modern medical science that now exisits, there is little excuse for this happening.

Importance of taking the tuberculin test is stressed by a health agency. This little test adequately proves the soundness of the old adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." You should make it your business to investigate the tuberculin test and protect yourself and your children with it.

TOWNSENDISM NEAR END

From the Detroit News.

A rally of about a hundred of the faithful met in Highland Park the other day to affair confidence in the Townsend old-age pension plan and the founder. A representative of the doctor spoke on a chism which has split the ranks of his following. A listener who proposed a change in the name of the organization was booed down. There was a discussion of finances, no longer in terms of millions but of a few thousands. The usual collection was taken and came to less than $35.

Thus, the Townsend enterprise moves through the cycle prescribed by nature for the scheme which offers salvation in an impossible form. To work on the various legislatures in behalf of practical old-age allowances which accommodate themselves to the realities of public bookkeeping is a long and arduous undertaking, and it lacks that quality of seeming magic which attracts the credulous in droves. It is with this last that the Messiah captures the unanalytical.

But the mood in which they rush to enlist is also one which is to be sustained only by quick results. When promised wonders are not instantly forthcoming, the followers fall away, rifts develop in the command, quarrels grow up over the division of dwindling funds, there are reorganizations and early converts must be converted anew. At last, when a community of this size responds to a call for new funds with $33.97, it can be said that the cycle is nearly run.

The Grecian city of Salonika has changed its name to Thessalonika.

All we ask of the world is our deserts, but we don't want anybody else deciding what we deserve.

There is no such thing as unearned income. If the one who gets it doesn't earn it, somebody else does.

Cole Association Picnic Group Here Sunday

Monster Reunion Is Held By Cole Association At The Park Sunday

Over 200 From Many Cities at Annual Picnic

Sunday was a day of celebration for the descendants of William Temple and Hannah Cole, Stephen and Phoebe Cole, early Central Missouri settlers, whose escapades, exploits and hardships figured on the pages of pioneer history of Cooper county and Boonville.

A reunion of the Cole Association was held at Liberty Park with a monster picnic in which fried chicken, country ham, salads, jellies, jams, preserves, cakes and other palatable foods made up a repast served to 180 descendants and visitors increasing that number to over 200.

After the repast served in a shaded spot at the park officers were elected as follows: Farrie Cole, Otterville, president; Mrs. Gilla Roe, Bunceton, honorary president; Noel Cole, Bunceton, vice-president; Mrs. Ire Leiter, Sedalia, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. William Lucas of Kansas City, who is compiling a history of the Cole family in Missouri made an interesting talk and briefly gave some of the earlier day chronology in which its members figured.

Songs appropriate to the event were followed by a prayer and the afternoon was then spent in reminiscences, renewal of old friendships and the various amusements the park affords.

The attendance this year was larger than a year ago when 185 gathered for the event.

It was voted to hold the fourth annual reunion at Liberty Park in 1938, the last Sunday in August.

Among those attending Sunday's celebration, listed by various cities and towns were:

Otterville—Mr. and Mrs. Farrie Cole and children, Farrie, Jr., and Frank; Mr. and Mrs. George Putman and children, Marjorie, Maynard, Tommie, Connie, Sue, Wilbur, Jimmie, Martha Bell, Gladys Bess; Mrs. Phillips; Mr. and Mrs. Don Keefer and Holbert Cole.

Trench Silo on Ernest Thompson Farm, Near Sedalia

The above trench silo on the Ernest Thompson farm shows a good trench silo that has been properly constructed. Mr. Thompson dug a trench 90 feet long, 8 feet wide at the bottom, 10 feet wide at the top, and 8 feet deep on a slope of a hill for his silo. This silo has been in use two years. Mr. Thompson says that each year the silage has kept perfectly. Each year he has filled about 70 feet of the trench with silage and this has given him enough silage to carry his 30 dairy cows from early winter until grazing time next spring. Mr. Thompson believes that the secret in keeping silage in a trench silo is to pack it well when it goes into the silo, and to have it thoroughly wet down. When Mr. Thompson fills his silo, he packs his silage with a tractor and keeps a stream of water running into the silo continuously while filling. Before filling the silo, it is also important to thoroughly wet the side walls and bottom so as to seal up the cracks and prevent the silage from drying out along the sides and causing spoilage.

When filling the silo, the silage should be heaped up well above the top of the silo to allow for settling. After Mr. Thompson has filled his silo, he covers the silage with 6 to 10 inches of dampened straw or chaff and then places 8 to 10 inches of dirt over the chaff. This seals in the silage and keeps out air to prevent spoilage A silo the size of this one will hold 65 to 75 tons of silage.

Last year there were 239 silos in Pettis County filled with 19,163 tons of ensilage. Of the 239 silos filled, 108 were trench silos.

Cheap, bulky, carbonaceous roughage supplemented with a protein ration feed form the foundation of a successful winter ration and silage is without doubt one of the outstanding roughages for that purpose because of the succulence which it furnishes along with the bulk.

At the Kansas Agriculturel Experiment station, corn silage produced 368 pounds of gain for every acre fed where as each acre of corn fodder produced only 225 pounds gain or a difference of 142 pounds gain in favor of the cattle fed silage for each acre fed to the cattle.

Full instructions on building and filling temporary silos may be secured in Extension Circular No. 346. This circular may be secured at the county agent's office.

CHARGES FLOOD OF PROPAGANDA

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Representative Cochran (D-Mo) declared today the nation is being "flooded with propaganda" for re-enactment of prohibition respite its "repudiation as a costly and tragic failure."

The Missourian, in remarks inserted in the congressional record, contended social and economic conditions have improved since repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Urging strict enforcement of the liquor control laws, Cochran said:

"Nothing will do more to incite the people and cause them to join up with prohibition forces than the failure of enforcement authorities to protect the youth by seeing to it that young men and women are prevented from securing intoxicating liquorfs."

The representative said a survey of police records throughout the country made by himself showed that deaths from alcoholism, arrests for drunkenness, arrests for drunken driving and homicides have decreased since repeal.

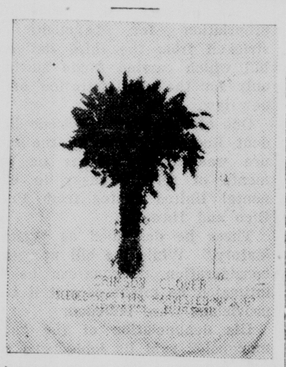

DINNER STORIES

Stretching The Point

A railroad agent in Africa had been "bawled out" for doing things without orders from headquarters. One day his boss received the following startling telegram:

"Tiger on platform eating conductor. Wire instructions."

EXCELLENT CROP OF CRIMSON CLOVER

Crimson clover grown on the F. E. Durham farm, northwest of Sedalia, seeded September 7, 1936, and harvested May 26, 1937.

The crimson clover shown above, produced by F. E. Durham in the northeast part of Sedalia was seeded in early September, 1936, at the rate of 25 pounds per acre in a field that was seeded to oats and lespedeza the previous spring. An oat crop was taken off and the lespedeza let go to seed for a volunteer reseeding. At the time the crimson clover was seeded, the ground was thoroughly harrowed and the crimson clover seeded broadcast. Crimson clover survived the winter of 1936 and 1937, and in early June, a hay crop of 1¼ tons per acre was harvested.

Crimson clover is primarily adapted to the sandy soils of Southeast Missouri for pasture and soil improvement. However, during recent years, crimson clover has survived through the winters as far north as Central Missouri. Crimson clover should always be seeded in the fall during early September and will reach maturity by the middle of June the next spring. For the best quality hay, it should be cut when most of the plants are in full bloom; generally, a second crop is not produced. During severe winters and on poorly drained land, crimson clover cannot be expected to live through. On the other hand, on land on which it can be produced, it makes an excellent cover crop and an early crop either to plow under as a green manure crop or a hay crop. Where crimson clover is grown alone, it may be followed with corn or soybeans; or, in the case as Mr. Durham has used a combination of crimson clover and lespedeza. Crimson clover may be grazed or cut for hay and the lespedeza used for pasture or seed.

AUTO CRASH HIGHLIGHTS

Mute testimony to the force of the Winston-Straka auto crash was the radiator emblem of Winston's car found by a motorist 100 feet north of the scene.

—o—

State highway patrolmen did a good job directing returning Lake of the Ozarks motorists and Sedalian's attracted to the scene. Hundreds of parked cars lined both sides of the concrete while occupants surrounded the wrecked machine. The patrolmen kept through traffic moving without a hitch.

—o—

Many women refused to leave their cars while their husbands went to view the wreckage. "I'd like to see it, but it's too horrible," one explained.

—o—

The shatter-proof windshield of the Chevrolet had two holes where the Winston couple's heads hit the glass. The lower part of the steering wheel was broken off. Winston complained of pains in his chest. The Buick's lights continued to burn adding ghastly illumination to the wreckage.

—o—

Deputy Sheriff Clyde Coppers was early on the scene getting information. "I came back in the ambulance with the dead woman and Winston. I had a difficult time holding Winston from jumping out of the car. He was unstrung and said he was the one who ought to be dead instead of his wife."

—o—

At the Bothwell hospital Winston insisted on using the telephone to call friends and relatives in Windsor. About 9:30 he and Law issued from the elevator on the office floor looking like two war casualties. Law almost fainted and had to be assisted to a chair. Winston was faint but put through several calls to his friends and sobbingly told of his wife's death.

—o—

He contacted Radio Station WDAF and arranged for a broadcast to contact his wife's daughter, Mrs. Al Rowland, of Kansas City, who is traveling by automobile to Denver. She has a radio in her car.

—o—

The dead woman's mother is seriously ill at her home in Strickland, Mo. "We were visiting her last week," Winston said. "I'm afraid this news will kill her. Don't let her know. I've got to tell her myself. This is terrible. 'Pat' was such a good kid."

It Was a Great Fair

Cold statistics mean much in the final analysis—attendance and receipts, but the outstanding tribute to Secretary Charles W. Green's management, was the mass enthusiasm and infectious gaiety of over a quarter of a million people who visited the Missouri State Fair last week.

It was spontaneous from the first day when thousands jammed the grandstand for the automobile races. Augmented by the kind of weather that makes fair crowds, the week's program rolled along as smoothly as any in the history of such exhibitions.

Every effect has its cause, analytically speaking. The cause in the 1937 State Fair originated with the untiring zeal of Mr. Green whose detailed planning bore fruit. A good executive surrounds himself with able assistants and this the secretary did, particularly in delegating advance and current publicity to R. D. "Duke" Molesworth. And Mrs. Green—her cheerful and competent activity deserves an especial bouquet.

Despite the nervous tension created by managerial quick decisions as problems arose each day Mr. Green and his assistants are to be complimented for courteous relations engendered among the exhibitors, the public and the press.

All this, nothwithstanding that the Fair was operated on a limited budget that handicapped purse and premium awards, an item that should require serious consideration of legislators.

Yes, it was a great Fair! Thank you Mr. Green, Mr. Molesworth and the remainder of the State Fair staff.

WINDSOR WOMAN LOSES LIFE IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Patricia Winston Killed and Five Were Injured

R. F. SALMONS HAS LEGS FRACTURED

Winston Car Crashes Into Rear of Another on Highway 65

Mrs. Patricia Winston, 35 years old, was instantly killed, about 7:45 o'clock Sunday night when the automobile in which she was riding, driven by her husband, Lee Winston, a cafe operator in Windsor, crashed into the rear of another car driven by John Straka, Jr., thirteen miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65.

Winston received a deep laceration on his right cheek and bruises about his body, while two companions R. F. "Uncle Bob" Salmons, suffered fractures of both legs, a probable fracture of a hip and numerous bruises, and Roy Law, several slight lacerations about the head and a skinned right shoulder. Salmons and Law also reside in Windsor. They were taken to the Bothwell hospital in an ambulance from Lincoln, Mo., while Winston was brought to Sedalia with his wife in the McLaughlin ambulance.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral chapel and later removed to Windsor to the Austin Funeral Home.

Young Straka and his sister, Teresa, received slight injuries. Straka had a bruise on the right shoulder while his sister suffered a laceration on the right leg. She was taken to their home about two miles from the Windsor-65 junction on Cole Camp R. F. D. No. 1.

According to Straka he was driving north on highway 65 with his sister and was going about thirty miles an hour, when he noticed some bright lights approaching from the rear. It appeared the car was going to turn out to go around, and at the same time he saw another car coming from the north. Winston, he said, apparently turned back into line again and crashed into the rear of Straka's machine.

The Buick, a 1927 sedan, was thrown to the east side of the road and turned to face back towards the south. It was lying on its side, while the Chevrolet nosed into the right side of the Buick with the entire front end smashed in. Both cars were practically demolished.

Winston when asked how the accident occurred said he could not recall just what occurred.

Law said he was asleep in the rear seat of Winston's car and remembered nothing until he came to in the hospital.

The Winston party had been on the Lake of the Ozarks, south of Versailles to witness motor boat races held there Sunday afternoon.

Dr. T. S. Reser, coroner of Benton county, who viewed the body of Mrs. Winston, stated he would not hold an inquest unless it was requested. He said it was purely an accident. However, he made full inquiry by taking statements from young Straka and William Coon, of 601 West Fourth street, this city, who was among the first to arrive on the scene.

Several hundred people were attracted to the wreck by the rushing of ambulances to the scene, many stopping, while enroute home from the Lake of the Ozarks.

Mrs. Winston is survived by her husband, a daughter by a previous marriage, Mrs. Al Rowland, 2607 Harrison avenue, Kansas City, her mother, Mrs. Clod Felder, of Spickard, Mo., and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Staples, of Marshall, Mo.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. Efforts are being made to contact her daughter who is vacationing in Colorado.

Two Leave Hospital

Mr. Winston was released from the hospital after he had been given emergency treatment Sunday night and Mr. Law was able to leave today. This afternoon Mr. Salmon was getting along as well as can be expected. Dr. Louis Hess, a specialist of Kansas City, was here to consult with local physicians who are attending him.

RABBI S. H. BARON ACCEPTS CALL TO TEMPLE BETH EL

Succeeds Rabbi Feinberg Who Goes To Decatur, Illinois

Rabbi Samuel Halevi Baron of Leavenworth, Kas., has accepted the call of Temple Beth El to become the new spiritual leader of the local Jewish congregation, it was announced by Joseph L. Rosenthal, president.

He will succeed Rabbi Adolph J. Feinberg, who has accepted a call to a larger field at Temple B'nai Abraham, Decatur, Ill. The new Rabbi is well known in this community, having been a guest speaker here on several occasions during the past two years.

Rabbi Samuel H. Baron

The season's activities at Temple Beth El, under Rabbi Baron's leadership, will be inaugurated by special religious services for the holiest days in the Jewish calendar. Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will be observed Sunday evening and Monday morning, September 5 and 6. Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, will be observed by services Tuesday evening, September 14, and all day Wednesday, September 15. Rabbi Baron will also conduct regular Friday evening Sabbath services and will take charge of the reopening and reorganization of the Temple religious school.

Rabbi Baron resigned the pulpit of Temple B'nai Jeshurun in Leavenworth to accept the position here. During his two years in that city, he served as a community chest and Jewish welfare fund worker, as director and publicity chairman of both the Leavenworth County Chapter, American Red Cross and the Leavenworth County Tuberculosis and Health Association, and as vice-president and program chairman of the Leavenworth Ministerial Association.

Reared in Indianapolis, Rabbi Baron received his early education there. He obtained the Bachelor of Arts degree at Indiana University, the degree of Bachelor of Hebrew Literature and the title of Ordained Rabbi at the Hebrew Union College, and the Master of Arts degree at the University of Texas. He has also attended Butler University. In addition, he has been devoting his summer vacations to post-graduate studies and research at the Hebrew Union College and the University of Texas towards the advanced degrees of Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Philosophy, respectively.

During his ten years thus far in the active Rabbinate, Rabbi Baron has served in three locations. His first three years were in the pulpit of Temple Israel at Uniontown, Pa. At the same time he was director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at West Virginia University in near-by Morgantown, W. Va. The Hillel Foundation, sponsored by the B'nai B'rith lodges of America, is a national organization devoted to religious, cultural and social activities among Jewish university students. Before going to Leavenworth, Rabbi Baron served for five years in Austin, Texas, as Rabbi of Congregation Beth Israel and director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at the University of Texas.

Rabbi Baron's five years in the Texas capital were marked by numerous honors at the hands of his community and his colleagues, both Jewish and Christian. Among other activities, he was treasurer of the Austin Social Workers' Club; secretary of the Austin Jewish Federation of Charities; secretary of the Morris Lasker Scholarship Fund of Texas; vice-president of the Central Council of Social Agencies of Austin; chairman of the Austin Community Chest; president of the Association of University Religious Workers (Catholic, Protestant and Jewish); vice-chairman of the Travis County Consumers' Council (by appointment of the National Emergency Council in Washington, D. C.); and president of the Kallah of Texas Rabbis (Orthodox, Conservative, and Liberal). In addition, he is a member of two national committees of the Central Conference of American Rabbis; a former officer of the Hebrew Union College Alumni Association; and a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociological fraternity.

As a public speaker, Rabbi Baron has been greatly in demand, both in the communities he has served and in the surrounding territory. Luncheon and civic clubs, churches and Bible classes, women's clubs and literary societies, parent-teacher associations and teachers' institutes, colleges and universities, and state and regional conventions of all kinds have called upon him repeatedly for addresses. While in Texas, he spoke before the Austin City Council, the Travis County Commissioners' Court and the Texas State Legislature. Among his most popular public lectures have been his reviews and interpretations of modern books and dramas. At the same time, Rabbi Baron's synagogue sermons are said to have consistently demonstrated a fine grasp of Hebrew scolarship and a deep understanding of the Jewish spirit.

In the short time that Rabbi Feinberg was located in Sedalia, he earned a fine place for himself in the esteem of the general community as well as his own congregation. In addition to a full schedule of Temple activities, his interest in the religious and civic affairs of the community brought him to an ative part in Goodwill work, the B'nai B'rith, the Ministerial Alliance, and the Kiwanis Club. Most of the civic organizations and several of the church groups had occasion to hear Rabbi Feinberg's spirited and well received addresses. The young Rabbi spoke on a number of occasions in Kansas City and vicinity. During the past two months, in addition to local pastoral duties, Rabbi Feinberg officiated at the Paseo Boulevard Snyagogue in Kansas City, during the absence of Rabbi Gershon Hadas.

The young Rabbi is an honor graduate of the Hebrew Union College, class of 1936, having been awarded the I. Fleischer valedictory prize, the Straus and Social Research prizes. He graduated at the head of the class from University of Cincinnati (1933) and was awarded Phi Beta Kappa and other honorary insignia, as well as several prizes for oratory and for literary efforts. Rabbi Feinberg was for several years editor of the H. U. C. Monthly and chairman of the College Literary Society. He is author of several manuscripts used in religious schools throughout the country, including "The Debater's Handbook for the Jewish Club."

TWO DIE AS PLANE PLUNGES IN RIVER

By The Associated Press.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Aug. 28.—Two men were killed tonight and a third injured when their plane plunged into the Tuscarawas river from a height of about 400 feet.

Calvin B. Clark, 21, of St. Clairsville, O., owner of the plane, and Jessie Hanson, of Martins Ferry, died a short time after the crash. William Stroup, 34, of New Philadelphia, who was piloting the ship, was in critical condition at a hospital here.

GREATLY ENJOY VISIT TO ENGLAND

Lee Montgomery, Sedalia attorney who with Mrs. Montgomery, is spending the summer in England, writes from "Stow-On-The-Wold," August 17, 1937, saying in part:

"Just our luck to encounter some delightful friends from Kansas City, Mo., who drove us up to this quaint village, the most beautiful part of rural England. There we all lodged most comfortably in an old inn. They drove us around daily to places of scenic, historical or literary interest. For instance to Stratford yesterday for a play in Shakespeare Memorial Theatre. There villages look like pictures out of a book of fairy tales."

ARE YOU FAMILIAR WITH THE STATE TRAFFIC LAWS?

Questions and Answers on Licensing of Auto Drivers In Missouri

One of the vital questions in the application for an automobile driver's license under the new state law effective September 6 is the fourth of the eleven on blanks distributed. It is, "Are you familiar with the traffic laws of Missouri?"

This question is propounded for the purpose of seeing that operators of motor vehicles have a proper understanding of the laws, and any who do not will be enlightened so that they may properly comply in various situations that arise in traffic over the highways, or streets and avenues of the cities.

Copies of the laws will be available to those not having a full understanding of their import.

Q. Who will be required to obtain licenses?

2. All drivers in the state over 16 years of age.

Q. When will applications for the licenses be available?

A. Application blanks are now being distributed by employes of V. H. Steward, state motor vehicle commissioner, and should be available in all parts of the state by September 1.

Q. Where will the application blanks be available?

A. At the 55 branch offices of the secretary of state, located in the principal towns of Missouri, and at motor car dealers, garages and banks in rural sections. The Sedalia headquarters is at the Thompson-Chevrolet Company, Fourth and Osage.

Q. When does the law become effective?

A. September 6, ninety days after adjournment, to the legislature. However, Commissioner Steward has stated that no effort would be made to enforce the law on that date because of the preparation problems involved. But each driver is expected to make application as soon as possible after the blanks become available in his community.

Q. What do the licenses cost?

A. 25 cents. They must be renewed every two years.

Q. What questions must the driver answer bearing on his ability to operate an automobile?

A. Eleven questions are asked for the secretary of state's records. They are: 1. How long have you operated a motor vehicle? 2. Is your driver's license under suspension? 3. Has your license been revoked? 4. Are you familiar with the traffic laws of Missouri? 5. What is your occupation? 6. What is your business address? 7. Give your qualifications for driving. 8. Have you ever been licensed as an operator or chauffeur? 9. Has such license been revoked or suspended? 10. Were you ever convicted of any motor vehicle violation? 11. If convicted, on what charge?

Q. How many licenses does the state expect to issue?

A. About 1,200,000 or 50 per cent more than the 811,000 licenses for passenger vehicles and trucks in the state. Prospective revenue from the drivers' license law for the biennium is estimated at $300,000.

Q. What will be the nature of the license carried by the driver?

A. It will be a photostat copy showing part of the application blank and the signature of the driver. The part of the application to be photographed for the actual license will contain the applicant's street number, city, county, age, race, sex, weight, height, color of eyes, and color of hair as well as the signature. Applications must be filled out on a typewriter or in black ink to facilitate the photography. All applications must be acknowledged by a notary public, as notice the facts are correct and the person signing the application is the actual applicant.

Q. How will the driver receive his license?

A. Through the mail at his home address. After the application blank is filled out, it will be forwarded to the motor vehicle commissioner's office in Jefferson City. Six cameras there will be used to photograph the blanks. The licenses will be mailed direct to the drivers from the capitol office.

Q. Who will enforce the law?

A. Col. B. Marvin Casteel of the state highway patrol has announced that his men will devote effort to strict enforcement. The commissioner of motor vehicles has wide authority to suspend or revoke licenses. Violations of law such as driving while intoxicated and convictions for offenses in which a motor car is used must be certified by courts to the state commissioner.

Q. Must drivers in St. Louis and Kansas City, which have local drivers' license laws, also obtain state licenses?

A. Yes.

Q. What is the purpose of the law?

A. To promote safety on Missouri highways. It gives the state a means of striking at dangerous drivers, through revocation of licenses.

Mr. Koenig said that the accounts must be closed within a few days, and all checks remaining must then be sent to the department headquarters and once there there is always a certain amount of red tape before they can be released.

LAST STREET CARS RUN IN SPRINGFIELD

By The Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 28.—Three street cars, followed by a fleet of 22 buses, tonight moved over Springfield's first street car route to the public square. For the street cars it was a farewell, for the buses, an inaugural trip.

The new buses begin service early tomorrow morning.

Salaries Paid To The Rural Teachers

The highest teacher salary last year was $100 a month, and the same for this year. The lowest salary last year was $42.50, and the lowest this year $45. The average monthly salary last was $55 and the average monthly salary this year $66.50.

CHILD FOUND SUFFOCATED IN AN AUTO TRUNK

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Little Arlene Mathison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mathison, Superior, Wis., was found tonight by her parents suffocated in the trunk of their car, parked in the rear of their home.

The child, who was playing in the yard, was believed to have crawled into the trunk to hide when the lid slammed shut.

OFFICERS SEIZED TWO PUNCH BOARDS

Sheriff W. L. Marlin and Deputy Sheriff Clyde Coppers conducted a raid on the Green Pastures, 214 East Third street, and report finding two punch boards.

They arrested Ross McClain. Mc Clain furnished two bonds of $250 each which were signed by his father, Pete D. McClain.

MELLON ESTATE FOR EDUCATION AND CHARITIES

No Bequests to Children As Provision Previously Made

PERSONAL EMPLOYES TO SHARE $180,000

Burial of American of Great Wealth Beside His Brother

By The Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—Andrew W. Mellon left his entire personal fortune, with the exception of $180,000, to his educational and charitable trust, his attorney, D. D. Shepard disclosed tonight.

The former secretary of the treasury's estate, which a member of the family said is a "very substantial one," will thus be exempt from inheritance taxes," Shepard asserted.

The $180,000 exempted in the will is to go to personal employees, Shepard said.

The announcement of the will came only a few hours after Mr. Mellon's funeral in the magnificent East Liberty Presbyterian church.

No Bequests to Children

The will explained that no bequests were made to his children, Paul and Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, because they had been "adequately provided for" already.

Shepard's statement:

"With the exception of a bequest of $180,000, to be divided among his personal employees, in appreciation of their loyalty and efficiency, and such household effects as are contained in his residence, the entire estate will go to the use of charitable and educational purposes.

"The A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust, created in December, 1930, is the organization to which the residue of the estate has been left. The deed creating this trust provides that its funds shall be applied exclusively to religious, charitable and educational uses and purposes. It has already distributed many millions of dollars during its existence."

Shepard said the properties of the estate were of such a varied character that it would be impossible to make any estimate of its size, but that it was "extremely large."

Mellon's secretary testified in an income tax hearing two years ago that in 1931 he estimated his employer's wealth at $205,000,000.

Shortly after the estimate Mellon placed more than $68,000,000 in securities into a personal holding company owned by the two children. Since that time he was known to have transferred other substantial holdings to the company.

The question of whether the gift to the A. W. Mellon educational and charitable trust will be tax exempt may be one which will have to be settled in court.

In re-assessing Mellon's income for 1931, the internal revenue bureau ruled that gifts to the trust were taxable, holding that it was not a bona fide charitable institution.

That was one of the issues which was debated before the tax appeal board, which still is considering Mellon's appeal from the $3,089,000 assessment.

A spokesman for the family said, when asked about the dispute concerning the trust's character:

"I feel certain that Mr. Mellon had ample legal assurances that the trust in every sense is a charitable one, under the law, before he made his will.

Shepard said tonight reports that the financier had given more than $70,000,000 from 1930 to 1937 to charity and education were "considerably underestimated."

If To Charity Exempt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Treasury officials said tonight the estate of Andrew W. Mellon would be exempt from huge inheritance taxes if it goes to charity.

If the estate had been left to individuals and had amounted to $500,000,000 as some persons estimated, the combined state and federal inheritance would have been $347,000,000. If the estate was $100,000,000 as other estimated, the tax would have been $67,000,000.

Officials said operations of the Mellon trust fund will be studied in detail before a final decision is made on taxibility of the bequest.

Burial By Brother's Side

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—Andrew W. Mellon was buried today in a vault beside his brother, Richard B. Mellon, to whose partnership in life the former treasury secretary often referred as "my brother and I."

More than 2,000 friends and mourners filled the $4,000,000 East Liberty Presbyterian church for the brief and simple funeral rites upon which the great financier had insisted.

Hundreds more stood outside the church as the bronze casket was carried out and taken to Allegheny cemetery for private burial in the family vault.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt sent a wreath which was placed with hundreds of others beside the casket in the Gothic church which the Mellon family had built.

The body had lain in state at the church for two hours, but the casket was not opened.

Wrecked Racer

The Miller-Schofield of George Hildebrand of Chicago, Ill., which overturned pinning Hildebrand the driver under it, after he had sideswiped the racing car of Posey Reeves of Oklahoma City. Hildebrand received injuries to his right arm, his left leg and bruises, while Reeves was not injured.

ACCUSE WOMAN IN DROWNINGS

By The Associated Press.

ATHENS, Tex., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Cuydel Beckham, charged with murder in connection with the drowning deaths of her husband an a brother, surrendered today and said: "I am not guilty and I am not afraid."

The charges against Mrs. Beckham and another of her brothers, J. W. (Bill) Jackson, were filed yesterday by Sheriff Jess Sweeten. The woman's husband, John E. Beckham, and A. A. Jackson drowned in Trinidad Lake Aug. 15.

Sheriff Sweeten said J. W. Jackson made a statement to him and County Attorney Miles Smith saying Mrs. Beckham warned him and his brother to refuse whiskey which her husband drank on a fishing trip. Jackson was quoted as having said that his brother and brother-in-law grappled and fell off a bridge into the lake.

ROUND-UP TIME FOR ANGLERS IN FISHING RODEO

Awards To Total Several Hundred Dollars In Event at Lake

It will soon be round-up time for anglers who expect to participate in the big fishing rodeo to be staged on the Lake of the Ozarks during the week of October 4 to 9.

While the prize list has not been completed by the Lake of the Ozarks Association, which is sponsoring the event, it is expected to run several hundred dollars with something like $200 to $250 in cash as first prize to the fisherman that pulls out the big ones.

There will be many other prizes that make the competition well worth the angler's best efforts. Included in the award list are: outboard motors, rods, reels, lines, lures, etc.

Resort and tourist camp operators are preparing to care for an overflow of guests during the week of the rodeo as already entry cards have been received from fishermen in Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma and Illinois. The rodeo has attracted the attention of the United States Department of the Interior which has requested complete details of this sporting event.

Moreland Brown, president of the association, announced Tuesday that the complete set of rules governing the rodeo will be available to the public soon. Here are a few of the rules that have been definitely decided:

Everyone can enter the rodeo except residents of the four counties that border the lake—Morgan, Camden, Miller and Benton—who are barred from competing for the major cash prize. They will, however, be eligible for a trophy.

BOARD SELECTED FOR SITE OF NEW CANCER HOSPITAL

Governor Says It Will Be Easily Accessible From Over State

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 31.—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark late yesterday appointed the new state cancer commission to select a site, construct and operate the state hospital for indigent cancer patients.

Dr. Ellis Fischel, St. Louis, is chairman. The other members are Ed F. Swinney, Kansas City banker, vice president; Waldo Holt, Louisiana banker, and Dr. Paul F. Cole, Springfield.

The legislature appointed $500,000 for construction of a hospital and its equipment and an additional $100,000 to operate it for a year. Ten central Missouri cities have been suggested as possible sites.

Stark also named the following advisory board to aid the commission:

Dr. M. B. Clopton, St. Louis; Dr. Ferdinand Helwig, Kansas City; Dr. Dudley Conley, Columbia; Senator Albert M. Clark, Richmond; Speaker J. C. Christy of the Missouri house of representatives, Festus; Hugh Stephens, Jefferson City; Bishop William Scarlett, St. Louis; Bishop C. H. Leblond, St. Joseph; and Mrs. David S. Long, Harrisonville.

Seek Central Location

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, in a telegram to the St. Louis county court today, indicated the court's offer of a site in the county for the proposed state cancer hospital would not be accepted.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Sunsan A. McVey

Mrs. Susan Allen McVey, 89, died at eleven-thirty o'clock Saturday night at the Bothwell Hospital. Mrs. McVey had suffered a fratured limb about six weeks ago and complications which set in were the cause of her passing.

She is survived by three sons, William Allen McVey, California; R. J. McVey, Sandusky, Ohio; and J. S. McVey, 641 East Tenth street; two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Poindexter, Kansas City and Mrs. G. H. Light of Saint Louis; and a brother, Clay Townsend, Kansas City.

Until a year ago she made her home with her brother in Kansas City. Recently she has lived with her son, J. S. McVey, a foreman at the Missouri Pacific Shops.

Mrs. McVey was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and the East Broadway Christian church.

Mrs. McVey was one of the early settlers of Sedalia. She was born in Milltown, Kentucky, in 1841. She came to Missouri when five years old. The journey was made in a wagon train. The family settled near Warrensburg and at the close of the Civil War moved to Sedalia.

After the war she was married to Reuben J. McVey, the son of Absolem McVey, from whom the land on which Sedalia now stands was purchased by General George R. Smith.

"SMILING COP" ALMOST RUN DOWN

Officer Kenneth Curran, the "Smiling Cop" from Kansas City, Friday was pulled from the path of a bicycle by one of his fellow officers as he stepped from between two cars to walk to the Kansas City police car parked across the street.

Fred Watkins, small in stature, a detective on the Kansas City police department, was walking with Officer Curran and saw the oncoming bicycle which was being peddled very fast by its rider. He grabbed Officer Curran by both arms and pulled him back just as the wheel shot by.

"You'd make a great traffic cop and should be on the traffic squad," was Officer Curran's comment to Detective Watkins.

HOMEMAKERS OF IONIA IN PROGRAM

One of the most interesting programs of the club year was presented at the hall in Ionia Tuesday with Mrs. C. C. Myers as hostess. The morning's meeting was devoted to a demonstration of the making of salads and sandwiches by Mrs. L. A. Marsh and Miss Miriam Brockman. A number of attractive and appetizing salads and sandwiches were made and at the noon hour these were added to the lunch brought by the members.

Following the lunch Lillian Jean Howe gave a reading, "The Bird's Picnic," honoring those whose birthdays were in August. The reading chairman, Mrs. G. G. Williams then introduced Miss Madge Ream of Green Ridge who in a very able and interesting manner gave a review of Dale Carnegie's book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

For the period on music appreciation, Miss Dorothy Myers played as a piano solo, the "Monastary Garden," by Ketleby. Miss Idell Brown sang Nevins' "The Rosary," and Miss Ozetta Brockman sang "The Beautiful Dreamer," by Stephen Foster.

A scrap book containing over sixty varieties of pressed wild flowers, collected and mounted by Mrs. J. D. Friedley was shown by Miss Nan Mahnken, the wild flower chairman.

Mrs. Homer Howe, current events chairman, gave a short review of recent news. In connection with this Mrs. Albert Miller gave an interesting account of the experience of her brother, a member of the U. S. Navy, who assisted in the search for Amelia Earhart.

Visitors present were Mrs. May Howe and Violette Howe of Sedalia, Mrs. Minnie Gandy of Pasadena, Calif., and Miss Madge, Joan and Virginia Ream of Green Ridge.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bowlin at which time the project will be the making and fitting of undergarments.

MISSOURI ATHLETIC COMMISSION MEETS

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 28.—The Missouri State Athletic Commission voted unanimously today to abolish all commission complimentary passes to boxing and wrestling shows.

Garrett L. Smalley, Kansas City, chairman of the commission, pointed out that there had been criticism of the number of passes issued to such events. He said the commission had formerly issued 650 passes, each good for two admissions.

The new ruling will not apply to passes given by promoters to those "entitled to them," Smalley said.

And of all state law enforcement agencies in prosecuting athletic shows presented by carnival companies in violation of state laws and commission regulations will be sought, the commission declared.

Horace T. Dawson of Wayland was formally appointed secretary of the commission. Dawson, who was recommended by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark two weeks ago, succeeds Robert F. Mundorff of Cassville.

Today's meeting was the first attended by Russell W. Murphy of St. Louis, appointed August 14 by Governor Stark to succeed Ernest F. Oakley, also of St. Louis.

The commission which decided today to meet every month, will hold a two-day session in St. Louis September 17 and 18 to consider revision of rules and regulations.

PENDERGAST IS AGAINST THE SLOTS

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 28.—The Star quoted T. J. Pendergast, Kansas City Democratic leader, in a special dispatch from Colorado Springs tonight as satisfied with the recent drive on slot machines in Kansas City.

"It is all right with me that they have taken the slot machines out of Kansas City." The newspaper quoted Pendergast as saying, "and I hope they keey them out.

"I am not in favor of anything in Kansas City that would entice the youth to get the gambling fever. I am against slot machines and have been for a long time. And I want to state that I have said so before."

DENY NEW TRIALS TO TRIO CONVICTED

DECATUR, Ala., Aug. 28.—(AP)—New trials for three Scottsboro convicts were denied today by Judge W. W. Callahan, who said the six-year-old gang rape case was to have ended "for good" in July with freeing of four of the nine accused negroes "by agreement."

Callahan's ruling posed the case for a third journey to the U. S. supreme court, which twice reversed Alabama convictions.

The first official disclosure of the July arrangement between counsel brought a statement from Clarence Watts, associated with Samuel S. Leibowitz of New York in the defense, that he will withdraw "if such an agreement was entered into."

ENVY FOR TWINS OLD AND YOUNG

By The Associated Press.

The grandmothers—Mrs. N. H. Crawford of Fort Wayne and Mrs. William Knowlton of Willard, O.—went around the convention showing off their granddaughters, Bernis Lynne and Arlynne Anne Crawford of Fort Wayne.

Twins have been a common occurrence in the family. The grandmothers, then Mrs. Crawford's daughter, Mrs. William Wilder, had twins, one of whom is living. Mrs. Crawford's nephew, Clarence Lopshire of Fort Wayne, is the father of twins.

OPERATION BY DR. DANDY SUCCESS

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28.—Federal Agent F. J. Lackney spent a restful day at the Johns Hopkins hospital Friday recuperating satisfactorily from an operation which removed one of the bullets fired into his back in the Kansas City massacre of 1933.

Dr. Walter E. Dandy, Baltimore surgeon, who performed the operation, said that in about a week he would remove another and final slurg imbedded in the agent's backbone.

"Mr. Lackey is doing very nicely," the surgeon said. "In a few days he will be able to sit up. About a week from now, or ten days after the first operation, we shall take out the other bullet."

Lackey was wounded when gunmen tried to rescue a prisoner he was guarding in Kansas City. The prisoner was killed and the federal agent received three bullets. One of them was removed soon afterwards.

ARSENIC POISONING IS CAUSE OF DEATH

SALEM, Mo., Aug. 28.—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of "arsenic poisoning at the hands of parties unknown," in the death on July 15, of Cleve Mooney, a farm laborer. Mooney died soon after eating the noon meal at the home of Ruby Jones, a farmer.

Jones, his wife and another man also became seriously ill and were taken to a hospital for treatment.

Believing the poison was in some corn which had been taken from a field on the Jones farm, Mrs. Jones threw what was not eaten into the back yard. Several chickens and a dog ate some of it and died.

The inquest was started August 2, but was continued until Jones recovered sufficiently to testify.

SHRINERS TO GIVE A FISH FRY HERE

Sunday, September 19th, should be a gala day for the people of Sedalia and surrounding territory, as it marks the day of the big fish fry and entertainment to be given here by the Shriners of Ararat Temple for all members and their families of the entire Shrine jurisdiction.

The Kansas City Shriners will bring hundreds of pounds of fish with an entire crew of cooks and many ovens that will be set up in City park, where the festivities will be held. The fish will be ample for the thousands that will attend and it will be given free to those attending, as the guests of Ararat Temple.

Besides the old fashioned picnic idea, there will be an address by Potentate Herb C. Ford of Ararat Temple and a band concert by Ararat Temple's famous Uniformed Band.

Those who desire may also dance with the Band.

There will be more than fifteen hundred Shriners leave Kansas City at 9:30 Sunday morning September 19th and will arrive in Sedalia in ample time to have the fish ready for serving at 1:30 p. m.

So folks, don't forget the date, Sunday, September 19th, at City park, Sedalia. Come and see a real Shrine outing and receive a real Shrine welcome from Ararat Temple Shrine of Kansas City.

FIND BAGGAGEMAN SHOT THROUGH HEAD

By The Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 31.—Shot through the head, H. E. Peck of Kansas City, messenger-baggage clerk for the Burlington Railroad and Railway Express Agency, Inc., was found dead on the floor of a baggage car of Burlington train No. 4 from Billings, Mont., when it arrived here this morning.

Police Detectives E. L. Murphy and C. C. Fee and Coroner B. W. Tadlock said it was evident Peck had shot himself with his service revolver. The gun lay on the floor near the body. Coroner Tadlock said Peck had been dead only a short time.

Peck, about fifty years old, last was seen alive at Falls City, Neb., the detectives said they were told.

CLAIM DEATH DUE FOOD POISONING

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—(Sunday)—(AP)—The death of Marshall Demid Mongolian war minister, was attributed to food poisoning in a report issued today by a Soviet medical examiner.

Marshal Demid died last Sunday aboard a train while crossing Siberia en route to Moscow.

The doctor's report ascribed death to "poisoning by canned food" but officials said there would be a further investigation.

COLLAPSES AND DIES WATCHING BLAZE

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—James Stevens, 12, collapsed and died today as he watched fire rage through buildings occupied by a gasoline distributing firm and a lumber yard near his home.

Fanned by a brisk breeze, the flames spread to three nearby homes but they were only slightly damaged. Buildings of the Purity Oil Company were badly damaged and the lumber stores of the Nahlik Lumber Company were destroyed.

MULES KILLED AND TIPTON MAN INJURED

Gus Schmidtt, 78 year old Tipton resident, suffered a broken nose and other injuries on his body, and a pair of mules he was driving, were killed about 7 o'clock Friday night, when a wagon the aged man was driving was struck by an eastbound Missouri Pacific bus.

Mr. Schmidt had been cutting grass at the Catholic cemetery and was driving to his home when the accident occurred about 400 yards west of the city limits, on highway 50. He was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Hecht, with whom he lives.

Mr. Schmidt was driving east, in the same direction the bus was traveling and according to his statement had pulled to the right of the highway, having only one wheel on the pavement.

LOW BIDS SUBMITTED ON NEW FEDERAL BUILDING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The Swanson Construction Company, Kansas City, Mo., submitted the low bid to the U. S. treasury today for construction of the federal building in Kansas City.

The Swanson bid was $2,499,5[illegible]. The S. N. Nielsen Company of Chicago bid $2,509,000 and Coath and Goss, Inc., Chicago, bid $2,558,000.

Leads Police at Detroit To Body Found In Clump of Weeds

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—A 45-year-old automobile worker, whose wife told officehs he had been subject to irrational spells since the death of his own daughter eight years ago, led police today to the body of Evelyn Mack, 10, hidden in a clump of weeds at the outskirts of the city.

Police Lieut. Walter Bachor said that Joseph Jacobs, a friend of long standing of the Mack family, confessed he crushed the child's skull with an automobile crank, yielding to an impulse he could not explain.

Jacobs, the officer said, told him he killed the child between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, shortly after he had obtained permission from her mother, seriously ill, to take Evelyn to a nearby grocery.

Jacobs said he drove all night long, while a search for him and the missing child grew in intensity. His flight to Canada, where his own daughter is buried, was frustrated when his automobile broke down at the Ambassador bridge. He was taken into custody there.

Jacobs is the father of three children. His wife told police he had been erratic since the death, eight years ago, of a daughter who would have been the same age of Evelyn.

Yesterday afternoon, police said, Jacobs called at the home of Vernon R. Mack, a designer for the Packard Motor Car Co. After some conversation, he asked Evelyn to accompany her to a nearby grocery.

When they did not return, the family asked police to search for them.

All Night Search Futile

An all night search was futile, but this morning police found Jacobs tinkering with his automobile near the Ambassador bridge.

Lieut. Bachor said Jacobs admitted readily that he had killed the girl and led him to the body.

Police went to the bridge in response to a report by a bridge attendant that a man whose automobile had broken down was acting strangely. The man was Jacobs.

Lieut. Bachor said Jacobs replied "I killed her," when asked what he had done with Evelyn.

Police expressed skepticism, the officer said, and Jacobs offered to lead them to the body.

There the officers found the body hidden in a clump of weeds. Jacobs said he had not attacked the girl.

He was sobbing hysterically when he reached police headquarters.

"I don't know why I did it," he sobbed. "I liked her. She was always so laughing and happy. I was going to take her to the grocery when we got into my automobile. I don't tell why, but I couldn't stop. I just kept going and going."

Continuing, Lieut. Bachor said, Jacobs told police:

"Before long we were out in the country. I stopped the car at the corner of Chicago avenue. Then I said 'Now you wait here, I'll be right back.'

"When I returned to the car, she was waiting for me. I took the crank handle. I hit her on the head with the crank. I don't know why."

WILLIAM SEMMLER DIES AT CALIFORNIA

William Semmler, 59 years old, died at his home in California, Mo., Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock, following a lingering illness. Mr. Semmler has been in failing health since February, 1936, and had been bedfast since last September.

His death came unexpectedly as he slept.

Mr. Semmler was born July 5, 1878 at Travisrock, Ontario, Canada. Mr. Semmler and his family came to California in 1922 and went into the cleaning business which they still conduct.

Mr. Semmler was twice married. By his first marriage he leaves a daughter, Mrs. O. E. McIntire of Tulsa, Okla., and by his second marriage he leaves a daughter, Zora Semmler; also two step-children, Mrs. Dean Gainer of California, Mo., and James Chaney who for several years has been associated in business with his step-father. He is also survived besides the widow, by three brother, Chas. Semmler of Higginsville, Mo.; Richard Semmler of Idaho Springs, Colo., and Henry Semmler of Alliance, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. Frederick Helvig of Kansas City.

Mr. Semmler was a member of the Lutheran church.

Funeral services were held at the J. W. Wilson Funeral Home at 10 a. m. Saturday. Burial was at Higginsville.

MISSOURI EARLY BARLEY

Above: Missouri Early Beardless Barley as produced on the R. T. Shelton farm, near Hughesville, in the spring of 1937. Note the barley on the right to which fertilizer was applied and that on the left where no fertilizer application was made.

Missouri Early Beardless Barley, an outstanding winter barley in Missouri, has many outstanding characteristics which make it an important crop in Pettis County agriculture. The ability to ripen for harvest by the the last few days of May or early June which is much earlier than other Missouri grain crops gives it the advantage of escaping much of the damage done by chinch bugs and spring droughts. This early maturity makes it a good nurse crop to grasses and legumes. Winter barley gives an abundant amount of pasture, particularly fall pasture as well as good yields of an excellent grain crop.

On the R. T. Shelton farm, a 50-acre field was seeded in the fall of 1936 and on which was applied 200 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate per acre. This field yielded 25 bushels per acre this spring even after the army worms had reduced the yield at least 50 per cent. On a check strip on this field, as shown in the above picture, where no fertilizer was applied the yield was only 20 bushels per acre.

Seeding Winter Barley

In seeding winter barley, several steps must be kept in mind if the seeding can be expected to be successful. They are (1) preparation of a clean, mellow, firm seed bed; (2) use of pure seed (certified seed desirable); (3) drill in 150 lbs. per acre of commercial fertilizer at time of seeding; (4) treat seed for stripe and smut; (6) if wanted for pasture, seed early in September at two bushels per acre; of not wanted for pasture, seeding three to four weeks later at a slightly reduced rate per acre will give satisfactory results; (6) seed on medium to fertile land, and (7) use a recommended variety.

Usually 125 to 150 lbs. of 20 per cent superphosphate is recommended; however, with the large amount of straw present on some land this year, a complete fertilizer such as 4-14-4 should be used with such seedings to supply nitrogen while the straw is decaying.

If seeded early, it must be kept pastured off so that it will not joint. Jointed barley, even if pastured off after jointing, cannot be expected to go through the winter nor can overgrazed barley be expected to go through the winter. Fall grazing should start when the growth is 4-5 inches tall and proceed through the fall so that an approximate 3 inch growth goes into the winter. At the Columbia Station, early seeded barley on medium land that has been fertilized has produced as much as 30 cattle days pasture per acre during the fall months. Some spring pasture can also be expected.

The ethyl mercury phosphate dust treatment has proven to be one of the most satisfactory treatments in controlling stripe, covered smut and black, loose smut in barley. Apply at the rate of one-half ounce per bushel in a mixing machine. The dusted grain should then be kept in a bin, pile, or wagon box for at least ten hours, during which time it should remain uncovered. Seed treated in this manner will be ready for planting immediately after this period or may be stored for as long as four weeks. Instructions should be followed in making this treatment as an excess of the dust may injure germination. Seed after being treated should not be fed to farm animals.

A fair supply of both Missouri Early Beardless and Tennessee No. 5 varieties of certified barley seed is available in Pettis County. For further information, write or call your county agent.

Dreams In Jail Son Was In Accident Which He Really Was

"Jim Law, Windsorite, in the Henry county jail, says that he has always been a strong believer in dreams but concedes they may sometimes greatly exaggerate the facts," states the Clinton Democrat. The article continues:

"Readers of the Daily Democrat will recall that Jim recently traded shots with a pair of Windsor officers who went to arrest him and Jim received a bullet in the leg. He has since been in jail awaiting trial in circuit court on various charges, and Sheriff Dalton Davis, in view of his wound, now nearly healed, has kept him in a cell, which is usually used for women prisoners.

"'What's the matter,' queried the sheriff.

"And Jim replied, 'Sheriff, I had a mighty bad dream. I dreamed my son, Earl, was in a bad automobile wreck that mussed him all up and probably injured him fatally.'

"The sheriff was a bit surprised, to put it mildly, for he had just finished reading an account in the morning paper of how Earl Law was with a Windsor party whose car was wrecked, killing one woman, badly injuring Bob Salmon and jolting up the driver, but Earl Law escaped virtually unhurt. So he just said soothingly, 'oh I guess there's nothing to it but just a dream.'

"'But sheriff,' said the distressed prisoner, 'I just know that there's something in it, for I am a believer in dreams. And I was so worried that I not only couldn't sleep after I woke up, but I just walked the floor the rest of the night.'

"Then Sheriff Davis had to tell Jim the truth of the wreck and how his son, Earl, had escaped virtually unhurt. But Jim still doubted the report on Earl's injuries until the officer went down and brought him the newspaper to read with his own eyes and see that his son had escaped serious injury.

"And, needless to say, Jim Law still believes in dreams more than ever."

TWO NEW TEACHERS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Two new teachers have been elected to join the Sedalia public school faculty, Miss Mabel Larkin, of Wellington, Mo., and Miss Geraldine Teufel, of Sedalia.

Miss Larkin will teach at Mark Twain school, taking the place of Miss Erkalene McCormack, who resigned to become a counselor at Stephens College Columbia.

Miss Teufel will succeed Miss Grace Jewel Potter, who taught at Horace Mann, and who has accepted a position with the Howard Engraving Company in Chicago.

COURT TERM WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

The September term of circuit court civil division, opens Monday, September 6. Officers of the court are: Judge, Dimmitt Hoffman; clerk, J. H. Perdue; sheriff, W. L. Marlin; official court reporter, Roy Snyder.

There are 169 cases on the docket, ninety-seven jury cases and seventy-two equity cases. Forty-nine of the equity cases are divorce cases.

AUTO DAMAGED AS IT HITS TREE AND POLE

A Studebaker sedan driven by John Howard Price of Bear Creek, Mo., ran between a tree and a telephone pole in the front yard of Miss Sarah Yarnell, 1501 South Limit avenue about 2 o'clock Saturday morning, smashing the fenders and running board on the right side, and knocking down the tree.

Mr. Price was accompanied by his mother and a sister. He reported to the police he evidently fell asleep while driving towards the fair grounds. None of the occupants were injured.

REEMPLOYMENT SEDALIA OFFICE IN NEW DISTRICT

Fourteen Counties Are Embraced Under Supervision Here

Sedalia has been designated headquarters for a new district of the National Re-employment Service it was announced Tuesday night by Wright Lloyd, district manager.

"Because of additional responsibilities of the public employment offices under the Unemployment Compensation Act, there has been organized a new district of the National Reemployment Service composed of fourteen counties, with headquarters at Sedalia," said Mr. Lloyd. "The new district will begin operating as such on September first. Public employment offices will continue to serve all employers and all workers under the same policies as in the past, without charge or obligation to either group."

Offices of the district will serve its various counties as follows: Sedalia offices, Pettis and Johnson; Marshall office, Saline, Carroll and Chariton; Boonville office, Cooper and Howard; Clinton office, Henry, Bates, St. Clair, Hickory, and Benton; Lexington office, Lafayette and Ray.

Into Nine Districts

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Reorganization of Missouri's public employment system into nine districts, with all offices under supervision of the state employment service was announced last night by Andrew J. Murphy, chairman of the state unemployment compensation commission.

The state employment service is one of the two divisions of the unemployment compensation commission. The reorganization is effective today.

The nine chief divisions offices will be at St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Springfield, Joplin, Sedalia, Hannibal, Columbia and Cape Girardeau. In addition there will be twenty-six branch offices.

Will S. Denham, who has been director of the state employment service, was named director of the re-organized state-wide service. Orden C. Oechsli formerly assistant state director of the national re-employment service, was appointed supervisor of out-state operatives.

PETTIS COUNTY MAN DIES FROM INJURIES

Mrs. W. J. Holtzen, of Smithton, received word that her brother, William F. Krueger, of Kinistino, Saskatchewan, Canada, died Wednesday morning as a result of injuries received when he was knocked down by a horse.

Mr. Krueger was leading a team of horses through a gate on his farm and attempted to close the gate in order to keep other horses from coming throught. One of the horses ran against the gate so violently that it knocked him down rendering him unconscious. He died without regaining consciousness.

Mr. Krueger was born in Lawrence county, Missouri, April 22, 1888 and at the age of twelve came to Pettis county where he grew to manhood living on a farm one mile north of Sedalia. He later came to Sedalia to live.

He was a graduate of Central Business College, was employed for several years at the Lamy Overall factory. About twenty five year sago he went to Saskatchewan, Canada where for a number of years he was associated with Mr. Jim Claggett also a former Pettis countain, in buying cattle. Since then he has been engaged in farming.

He was married to Miss Pearl Robertson of Kinistino, Sask., who with three daughters and one son survive. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Emma Kleeman, Stotts City, Mo., Mrs. Ludwig Mayer, Harrisonville, Mo., Mrs. W. G. Graff, Sarcoxie, Mo., and Mrs. W. J. Holtzen, Smithton, Mo.

Funeral services were held in Kinistino, and burial made there.

COUPON BONDS TO PAY OFF JUDGMENT

The city council, in a short meeting held Monday night, read an ordinance for the first time, proposing the issuance of coupon bonds, to the amount of $3,000, for six years, three per cent, to pay off a judgment to Miss Anna Rose Hammock, of Kansas City, rendered in the circuit court some months ago.

Miss Hammock was injured when she fell into a water meter box on East Seventh street, across the street from the Christian church. A suit was brought against the city and J. T. Montgomery, trustee for the Smith-Cotton estate which owned the property. The plaintiff did not make a case against the second named defendant because the estate had been closed and the judgment therefore, stood against the city.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night, September 7, because Monday is Labor day.

Mayor Julian H. Bagby presided over the session and all councilmen were present with the exception of Ernest Martin and Elmer Sumners.

Prior to the session Elmer Herrmann city engineer, who was recently married to Miss Inez Rideout, was presented with a walnut smoking stand by the committee of the street and alley department.

DIES AFTER BEING STRUCK BY AUTO

Jesse Pearl, eleven year old son of Lee Pearl, Versailles, Mo., was fatally injured about six-thirty Monday evening when he was struck by an automobile driven by Quint Merriott, also of Versailles.

He was riding a bicycle and on suddenly hearing the car close on him leaped from the wheel directly in front of the auto.

He was struck about two blocks from his home in Versailles. According to Drs. W. G. Gunn and Loren Washburn he received a broken thigh, crushed chest, a possible concussion of the skull and internal injuries.

He was taken to the Eldon hospital where he passed away at 9:30 o'clock.

The body was returned to Versailles by the Widwell undertakers.

DRILL FOR OIL IN HICKORY COUNTY

John W. Simms of Oklahoma City, formerly of Sedalia, is a member of the Hickory Oil Company, recently formed, which has leased 1,200 acres of land in Hickory county, between Cross Timbers and Preston, drilling a "wild cat test hole" for oil.

Others in the organization are Guy Webb and O. W. Hogsett, Springfield, Mo., and geologist C. J. Kahanek, Prague, Okla.

Under the terms of the leases the option expires in two years unless an attempt is made to drill on each owner's tract during that time, with the provision that the lease can be extended providing the company pays a rental of $20 a year per each forty acres.

SUITS BEING FILED ON DELINQUENTS ON THE SALES TAX

Auditing Crews Checking In Cities—Metal Tokens Soon Be Issued

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 30.—Auditors conducting the state's drive to collect delinquent sales taxes from Missouri retail establishments are averaging $500 a week in many cases, G. H. Bates, sales tax supervisor, said today.

A crew of 12 men opened an audit of all retail establishments in Kansas City today, Bates said. Twenty men are at work in St Louis, and eight more are checking stores here.

Bates said his efforts in the next two weeks would be directed toward getting the metal sales tax tokens into circulation to replace the "milk bottle" cardboard tokens. He expressed hope the new zinc pieces would be available for statewide circulation next week.

The metal tokens are being made at a rate of about 5,000,000 a week. Twenty-seven million one-mill tokens and 5,000,000 five-mill tokens were ordered.

Auditors are carrying out the threat, voiced by State Auditor Forrest Smith when he announced the delinquent sales tax drive Aug. 6, to obtain judgments against offenders.

Judgments at St Joseph

Thirty judgments totaling $700 were obtained last Friday against St. Joseph merchants. Forty other cases there were continued to Oct. 1. Suits were filed the same day against a cleaning firm and a cafe here.

The attorney general's office files the suits after a field auditor has notified Smith the merchant refused to pay.

Walter L. Hadley, in charge of the Kansas City sales tax collection office, said he believed $500,000 in delinquent taxes would be found there.

The sales tax law imposes a 3 per cent additional levy for each month the tax is delinquent, a 10 per cent penalty on the amount of an establishment of delinquency, and a 25 per cent penalty for evasion of the tax.

Smith announced an opportunity would be given merchants to pay the back taxes without the 25 per cent penalty. In cases of refusal, suits will be brought, he said.

Bates said today the drive would be extended to other parts of the state as soon as additional auditors become available. The audits in Kansas City and St. Louis will keep the crews there busy for many months, he indicated.

NEW EXTENSION CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Miss Mary Jane Isbell, Home Demonstration Agent, of Benton county, met with a group of women of the Union community in the home of Mrs. Perry Stevens, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Isabell explained the origin and purpose of Home Economics Extension club work, after a discussion of the officers necessary, and their duties and responsibilities.

A new extension club was organized with the following officers: Mrs. J. M. Rowan, president; Mrs. Perry Stevens, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Mantonya, secretary; Mrs. Harold Scheele, reporter; Miss Letha Stevens, game and song leader; Mrs. Emma Morgan, child development chairman.

The ladies chose Tuesday as a meeting day. A program committee composed of Mrs. Rowan, Mrs. Mantonya, and Mrs. Morgan was appointed and plans were made to meet with Mrs. Morgan. The next regular club meeting will be September 7 with Mrs. Mantonya. All the ladies of the neighborhood are cordially invited to attend the meeting, and the club extends the priviledge of membership to any interested woman.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Stevens served watermelon to the following: Mary Jane Isbell, H. D. A.; Mrs. Aug. Keseman, Mrs. Emma Morgan, Mrs. Forest Rowan, Mrs. Harold Scheele, Mrs. J. M. Mantonya, and Miss Letha Stevens.

These Pettis county 4-H club members won the Governor Lloyd C. Starke's challenge trophy for having the best county 4-H club exhibit at the 1937 Missouri State Fair. A total of 43 ribbons which consisted of 12 firsts, 15 seconds, 5 thirds, 4 fourths, 2 fifths, 1 sixth, 2 sevenths, 1 ninth and 1 tenth were won by these club members in food preservation, dairy, colts, and sheep club exhibits. The total winnings amounted to approximately $350.

This is the first year the challenge trophy has been offered and must be won three times to become the permanent property of the county. The winning of this trophy is a challenge to rural boys and girls of Pettis county and their leaders to do a better job of 4-H club work in 1938.

The exhibiting of 4-H club products is only a part of 4-H club work since the 4-H club program includes demonstrations, judging, tours, achievement days, business meetings, records, and leadership training. The 4-H club enrollment in Pettis county in 1937 includes 45 clubs with 346 members. Fourteen of these clubs with 107 members are agricultural clubsf consisting of two Baby Beef, 2 Colt, 2 Corn, 2 Dairy, 2 Ewe and Lamb, 2 Livestock Judging, and 2 Soil Conservation clubs. There are 31 Home Economic clubs with 239 members, which includes 17 Clothing, 3 Dinner, 1 Hot Lunch, 4 Supper and Breakfast, 1 Food Preservation and 5 Health and First Aid clubs.

SLAYER SUSPECT FATALLY SHOOTS SELF IN A TREE

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., Aug. 30. A twig snapped in a giant mulberry tree, there was a volley of gunfire, and Frank Foster, sought in the slaying of two men, tumbled from the tree, dead.

A two-day search for the 57-year-old tenant farmer ended near here yesterday when the vanguard of a posse stopped near the tree.

Carl Harder, a state highway patrolman, heard the twig snap. He looked up and saw the fugitive, lying prone on a limb, a pistol in his hand. Foster began firing. Harder fired back with a shotgun and soon others of the 22-member posse joined in. Foster's body tumbled from the tree.

The scene was less than a mile from the place where Charles Casey, Montgomery county undersheriff, was wounded fatally Friday night in an attempt to arrest Foster. Foster was wanted for questioning concerning the slaying of H. N. Kolb, 79, wealthy farmer, whose body was found in a rude grave on his farm.

Deputy Sheriff Gerald Gibson, slightly wounded by Foster after the shooting of Casey, expressed belief the fugitive had saved his last bullet to take his own life. A powder burn marked a wound in his right temple.

REWARD TO LITTLE GIRL FINDING PURSE

Juanita Tubbs, who resides with her parents at the old American hotel, Main street and Lamine avenue, received a $2.10 reward for her honesty early Tuesday morning, after she had turned over to the police a pocket book containing $10 which she found in the Uptown theatre.

The little girl, ten years old, attended the theatre and noticed the pocketbook on the floor and after finding it took it to police headquarters in hopes of finding the owner.

It was later learned it belonged to Avery Spillmeyer residing at 204 East Twenty-Fifth street. Mr. Spillmeyer told the officers he felt it was almost a "total loss" as lost money these days is seldom returned unless some honest person like the little Tubbs girl finds it.

L. W. KESSLER DIES IN THE MISSOURI PACIFIC HOSPITAL

Mrs. I. C. Smallwood, 506 East Tenth street, received word Saturday apprising her of the death of her brother-in-law, L. W. Kessler, who passed away Saturday morning at the Missouri Pacific hospital in St. Louis.

Surviving are his widow and four children: Sister Deloris of St. Louis; Ruth Kessler, Maurice Kessler and Mrs. Pat Lynch all of Van Buren, Ark.

REV. FR. DUNN TO SPRINGFIELD

The Rev. Father Paul A. Dunn, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church, has received word he is being transferred to the St, Agnes church in Springfield, Mo., to take the place of the Rev. James J. Halley, who was killed last Saturday when his motor car and a train collided near Conway, Ark.

Father Dunn came to Sedalia in January four and a half years ago to succeed Rev. Father Thomas F. Prendergast who was transferred to Kansas City at that time.

He is to report at his new parish on or before September 10.

Rev. Father Walter J. McGrane, in charge of the Missions at Higginsville, has been appointed by Bishop Lillis to succeed Rev. Dunn as pastor here.

ONCE WEALTHY OIL MAN PASSES AWAY

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28.—John R. Ware, 88, former oil man who made and lost two fortunes in Ohio, died in the county poor farm here Thursday, relatives said tonight.

Mrs. Della Singleton, a niece, who arrived here today from Louisville, Ky., to take charge of funeral arrangements, said the aged man went to the poor farm after he had broken down attempting to build a third oil fortune in Oklahoma. She said he proudly refused help from his family.

VERSAILLES, Mo., Aug. 30.—The body of O'dell Evans, 20, of Kansas City, Kas., was recovered today from the Lake of the Ozarks at Dr. Kaiser's camp, 25 miles south of here. The youth was believed to have struck his head when he dived off a dock late yesterday.

SEVEN VICTIMS IN IOWA FARM HOME TRAGEDY

Woman Ends Lives of Children and Self With Exhaust Gas

DENNISON, Ia., Aug. 30.—Seven bodies—a mother and her six children—lay in a funeral home here today, victims of a farm home tragedy that Coroner John Gottburg said was murder and suicide.

The dead were:

Mrs. Elsie Nollen, 30, Leona, 4, Viola, 2, Orvin, 11, Wilbert, 10, Pauling, 7, Earl 6.

Leaving a suicide note which told of marital unhappiness, Mrs. Nollen took the lives of her children and hedself by sending deadly automobile exhaust gas from the family car into a bedroom window of her home, west of here.

"I have tried and tried to live a decent life," Mrs. Nollen said in the six-page, penciled note, "and raise my kids up right so they would be decent. x x x

"But they have a father that does not care for them or either me. He don't know any better. x x x

"Albert was awfully good to me when he wasn't drinking. I couldn't ask for a better husband. But oh, he sure was awful when he got drunk.

"He has beat me up lots of times and I always forgot about that just because I loved him and wanted to live with him. x x x

"Oh, my, such a life. x x x

"I am doing this because I can see that this family it not going to be raised up right and I think it is a shame to let them grow up and live such a life. x x x"

Sheriff C. A. Greene said Mrs. Nollen had coupled a piece of flexible metal tubing used to carry off the exhaust from a small gasoline washing machine motor to the exhaust pipe of the car, and placed it beneath the bedroom window.

The bodies of Mrs. Nolen, Leona and Viola were found on a bed he said. The other four children were found in the adjoining room.

REUNION HELD BY CURNUTT FAMILY

A reunion of the Curnutt family descendants of John Curnutt (better known as Uncle Johnny) an early settler in the northwest part of Pettis County, was held at the home of A. M. Curnutt north of Knobnoster Sunday, Aug 29th. At the noon hour a table groaning with good things to eat was served in cafeteria style. The afternoon was spent in taking pictures of different groups, in reminiscing of ye good old days, and in music; the music being furnished by Mr. Gilbert Adams and sons Buryl and Burdett with mandolin and guitars and Mrs. Mary Zumbrun on the accordian. At the close of the day which was a most enjoyable one, it was unanimously voted to make it a yearly occasion, and after all joining in singing "God be with you 'till we meet again," and a beautiful prayer by Mrs. J. E. Six all departed for their respective homes. Those in attendance were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Curnutt, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Swisher and Jane, Estel Lee and Leota May Curnutt and Chester Franklin all of Knob Noster, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Curnutt and Anna Louise of Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Phifer of Windsor, Mrs. Mary Zumbrun and Florence Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Adams and sons Buryl, Burdett and Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dillingham and son J. W., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Six and Marilyn, all of Warrensburg, Dr. and Mrs. Carleton Lee of Kansas City, Kans., and James M. Conner of San Diego, California.

TO TAKE CENSUS OF UNEMPLOYED

President Roosevelt Signs Bill Appropriating Five Million

WASHINGTON(Aug. 31.—The five officials named to direct the unemployment census authorized by congress will work out detailed arrangements at a meeting soon after Labor Day, associates said today.

The board is composed of the secretaries of labor and commerce, the works progress administrator, the director of the census bureau and the head of the central statistical board.

President Roosevelt signed yesterday a bill providing for a voluntary registration of the jobless and tabulation of data on art-time employment and job opportunities. The census is to be completed by next April.

The bill authorized use of $5,000,000 of WPA funds but Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.), told the senate, at time of passage, that probably not more than $4,000,000 would be needed.

Both President Roosevelt and WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in the past have opposed taking an unemployment census, on the grounds the government had all the information needed to carry on its relief work.

Divergent Estimates

There have been widely divergent estimates as to the number of unemployed.

Every 10 years, in its regular census the census bureau takes a count of the unemployed; in 1930 the figure was put at 3,891,000.

Able to work and hunting work	2,429,000
Having jobs but laid off	759,000
Unable to work	173,000
Having job but laying off	724,000
Out of a job, not hunting for another	88,000
Idle but drawing pay	82,000
